Regional Chamber work to be directed from GC

In 1981, the coordinated activities of the Chambers of Commerce of 13 separate areas will be directed from Granite City, due to the election of two local men to head the Metro East Chamber of Commerce Association (MECCA).

Kenneth Evers of Edwardsville, past-president of the Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-Cities and office manager of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. here, was elected last week as president of MECCA, and Jim Livingston, executive vice-president of the local chamber office, was elected vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

According to Livingston, "Everything done by MECCA will come out of the Granite City office. Every piece of correspondence will be typed and mailed here and all of the projects will be carried out here.

"They came to us and said that due to the many accomplishments our chamber made in the past year and the many contributions we made to MECCA, they wanted us to take the ball this year and see what could be done."

The geographical area covered by MECCA makes it "a sleeping giant," according to Evers, who says he feels the potential of the Southwestern Illinois area MECCA covers is nearly unlimited, if all of the groups involved "just pull together to make things work and stop the petty differences."

The MECCA Chambers are situated in Alton, Collinsville, Belleville, East St. Louis, Fairview Heights, Wood River, Edwardsville, Highland, O'Fallon, Waterloo, Granite City, and Dicks and Jefferson Counties.

They cover a wide variety of cities, towns, villages, colleges, industries, businesses and potential development sites.

According to Evers, "MECCA's potential can do nothing but aid and assist the southwest area to grow and that is our intent."

Earl Lazerson, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has already pledged SIUE's full support to MECCA's programs and Lazerson will attend the first meeting under Evers' leadership Jan. 26 in Collinsville, Evers added.

Other areas are pledging their support to MECCA and are adding input toward preparing a program for the organization's efforts this year. MECCA will work with the Regional Commerce and Growth Association, Belleville Area College, the state Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, state, county and local governments, and other groups.

MECCA's goals are to further the development and the retention of industry in the entire area and to assist all cities wherever needed.

It also is to work toward enhancing the image of the area and to encourage all areas to work together collectively for the good of all.

Another challenge for MECCA and all of its members, according to Livingston, is to accept the responsibility of a citizens' watchdog to protect the interests of the citizens, as

Disagreement on causes of higher Nameoki assessments

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

"Our assessments are the highest I have ever seen. What Jim Barton (county supervisor of assessments) is doing is driving people right out of their homes. They can't afford the taxes," Carl Macios, Nameoki Township tax assessor, commented yesterday after reviewing the books of the township's reassessment done by the county.

The new tax assessment list for Nameoki Township appears in full in today's Press-Record. This year, the county reassessed every parcel of property in Nameoki, Saline and Helvetia Townships, while township assessors made changes in the other townships.

Barton's office insists the increases in assessments for Nameoki Township average about 14 percent, while the state is contending that the county has been underassessed by about 16 percent.

Macios believes the new assessments are "way too high, when compared to Granite City Township or other townships."

He explained that the current state assessment law provides two ways to determine assessments and Nameoki Township was assessed this year different than other townships. He is urging all homeowners in the township to file for county Board of Review hearings on their new assessments.

"The law's all screwed up. Barton didn't reassess according to a sales ratio (one-third of the prices similar homes actually have sold for), but did it according to the manual," Macios stated.

"He's using two sets of criteria, one year the assessment is set by the sales ratio and the next year he does it by the manual. If he is going to do that (assess by the manual), he should do it for the whole county.

"Look at Granite City and our reassessment is twice as high. We're getting it stuck to us. It's a political game they're playing. On that crazy law, he can do what he wants to," Macios contended angrily. Efforts now are underway by State Representatives Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) and Everett Steele (R-Glen Carbon) to change the law, Macios said.

Jean Hostetler, sales ratio consultant for Barton, disagreed that "using the manual" is bad. She says the state prescribed manual weighs many factors in determining the true market value of a home. Studying the sales ratio (the prices similar homes have sold for in similar areas) "tells you what kind of a job you've done," in reassessing by the manual, she said.

The sales ratio study should be used more to determine whether or not a multiplier should be applied for each township than it should be used to actually assess homes, she contended.

Increases are bound to be caused by reassessment, she noted. With few

Girl Scout anniversary

by DONNA HARTWICK
of the Press-Record

Girl Scout Week is to be observed on a nationwide basis starting March 8 and continuing through March 14 and will mark the 69th anniversary of Girl Scouting and the 19th anniversary of the River Bluffs Council.

This year's theme is "Girl Scouting 1981's Style" and will provide Quad-City Girl Scouts with a variety of special activities and projects to celebrate the annual event, according to Miss Diane Busch, public relations director for the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council.

The theme for 1981 will give area troops great opportunitis to highlight the new in Girl Scouting which includes new membership pins, books complete for all age levels, teenage uniforms, badges, older girl recognitions including the Gold Award, and a new emphasis on career exploration.

Girl Scout Sunday scheduled for March 8 will be the initial ovservance for three million Girl Scouts across the country. They will be celebrating the event by attending church in their uniforms along with other troop members, at designated churches or at services in their own places of worship.

Each troop is being encouraged to plan its own activities marking the anniversary week, such as having the mayors of the Quad-Cities sign proclamation, put displays in business places, libraries, schools, banks and post offices noting the new Girl Scout logo, pins, handbooks and uniforms for public exhibit.

Troops are also encouraged to have a uniform or Girl Scout pin day, to plan a citywide service project whereby troop members will participate in a city clean up, help with nutritious meals for senior citizens, volunteer help in a library and sponsor a film or career festival.

Tax revolt due to assessments

An organized protest based on new Granite City property assessments is being organized in the city's Seventh Ward-although residents of other areas are invited to attend a protest meeting.

The meeting will be held Jan.8 at 7:30 p.m. at the Nameoki Recreation Center, according to Paul R. Bowler, alderman of the Seventh Ward.

Bowler said property owners will fill out forms which may be filed with the Madison County Board of Review. Such protests must be filed within 20 days after assessment figures are posted. The Granite City assessments were published in the Press-Record Monday, Dec. 29.

Bowler reported that the large number of phone calls and conversations concerning the new assessments have prompted the meeting to discuss an assessment protest.

Bowler said he will be present to show property owners how their assessments have increased without equality and said the assessment protest forms will be made available at the meeting.

The alderman said he feels it is important for all citizens in the Seventh Ward to see their percentage of tax increase.

He said that in some instances property owners received assessment increases of 20 to 50 percent "with no justification.

Residents living outside Ward Seven are welcome at the meeting, Bowler said, in an effort to make the protest as citywide as possible.

He asked that property owners bring

Von Dee Cruse, Granite City township assessor, said today he will open his office at night next week to answer questions concerning property assessments here.

Cruse said his office will be open regular hours from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily, and then will reopen from 6 to 9 p.m. each night of the week.

"We will be on hand to answer questions and provide figures for those people concerned over their new assessments," Cruse said.

Dealer ends its link with Chrysler

H. J. "Mat" Matson, president of Granite Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc., this week announced that the local firm will terminate its working arrangement with Chrysler Corporation on Feb. 1, 1981.

"A combination of adverse factors led to the decision, including Chrysler's financial difficulties and dwindling sales, as well as the current poor economic climate and the soaring costs of inventorying merchandise," Matson said.

For the past ten years, Granite Chrysler-Plymouth, located in the downtown area at 19th Street and Grand Avenue, has been the successor firm to Elledge Motor Co., which began selling Chrysler cars here in 1939.

Matson added that the market penetration of Chrysler products in the Quad-City area has consistently been higher than national averages.

"In order to accommodate owners of these vehicles, the service department of the local dealership will remain in operation under the direction of Russ Lockridge," Matson said.

"The demand for good late-model cars has risen dramatically during the past year. We feel that the reorganization of the firm will enable it to broaden its base considerably for pre-owned vehicles.

"It is expected that all phases of automotive-connected services, sales, and procedures will continue to be handled through the downtown facility, with few changes in current personnel," he concluded.

Church influence on Africans doubled, Rev. Renfroe says

PARAMOUNT CHIEF, The Rev. R. J. Renfroe, right, stands with the Rev. Jacob Flumo in the Wainzu, Liberia, Assembly of God Church, following a ceremony that made Rev. Renfroe the Paramount Christian Chief of the Kpelle tribe. Rev. Renfroe founded the Owensgrove Bible Institute, in Liberia, during the mid-1950s and returned there last month for one of the graduation ceremonies. He was honored by the Kpelle tribe. Rev. Renfroe is the associate pastor of the First Assembly of God Church here.

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

The Christian religion currently influences about 50 percent of the native people of Liberia, West Africa, a growth from about 25 percent in the mid-1950's, according to the Rev. R. J. Renfroe, former African missionary.

The missionary work of the Assembly of God Church has grown from about six small preaching stations in the early 1950's to 125 churches.

The school founded by Rev. Renfroe has trained 90 per cent of the pastors.

Pastor Renfroe, now the associate pastor of the First Assembly of God Church here, went to Liberia as a missionary in the mid-1950's where he founded the Owensgrove Bible Institute which is still in operation.

Pastor Renfroe returned recently from visiting the school he founded, where he was honored by the Kpelle tribe.

Although Assembly of God missionaries have been in Liberia since the 1920's, Rev. Renfroe was the first to go into northern Liberia.

In special ceremonies in Wainzu, Liberia, Rev. Renfroe was made "Paramount Christian Chief" and vested in the robes of the office.

Rev. Jacob Flumo, district presbyter for the Liberian Assemblies of God, said at the ceremonies last month, "Rev. Renfroe is the first man to bring the Light and open the Gospel, we have in mind to now robe him Chief of the Christian Kpelle tribe."

Rev. Flumo felt that since Pastor Renfroe was "only" associate pastor in the United States, that the head pastor should also be "Christian Chief" and Rev. Flumo authorized the robing ceremony of the Rev. C. Dale Edwards, pastor of First Assembly of God.

The local church board "robed" Pastor Edwards two weeks ago.

Liberia is a country about the size of Ohio, with two million people founded in 1822 by freed American slaves.

The native tribes are mostly anamists and believe there are gods in rocks, trees, animals and other objects.

The local witch doctors are the chief persecutors of the Christian Church.

He noted that Rev. Flumo had been attacked and left for dead on several occasions.

Rev. Renfroe related that once six witch doctors attacked Rev. Flumo and thought they had killed him. Of those six, today five of them are dead and one has been converted and is a deacon in the church.

Pastor Renfroe recalled one evening in the early years of his missionary service when a band of 20 witch doctors gathered with the purpose of burning them out.

However, what Rev. Renfroe described as a miracle of God, frightened the group so badly that the church and school have been left alone since.

"One of the men in that group, years ago, was at the services where I spoke last month and recalled the story. He is now the minister of education of the country.

"The natives realize they need something, mostly education. So as

Zoning hearings Monday

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold two on-site public hearings in Quad-City area townships Monday, Jan. 5, 1981.

The first hearing will be at 10:25 a.m. Monday at 3200 Arlington in the Arlington Heights Subdivision of Nameoki Township, where Richard and Mike Hasty and James Seibert are requesting a special use permit to place a mobile home for as long as possible. The property is zoned R-4 for single-family residential use.

At 10:55 a.m. Monday, the board will meet at the corner of Chain of Rocks Road and Lenox Avenue in Mitchell's Paradise Acres Subdivision where Paul Gain is requesting rezoning for a tract of land from the present R-3 residential zoning to B-3 highway business zoning.

If the weather prevents the hearings from being held, they will be rescheduled to Wednesday, Jan. 7, at the same times and locations.

After the two hearings, the Zoning Board of Appeals will meet in the office of the county's building and zoning department in the county courthouse at Edwardsville to make their recommendations.

The recommendations will be presented to the Madison County Board at its mid-January meeting.

Disagreement

exceptions, everybody's assessment will be higher this year, because of the inflation, Mrs. Hostetler said.

Mrs. Hostetler said that if the county does not fairly reassess property, the state will impose a large multiplier. If no reassessment was done for the 1980 year, the multiplier probably would be 1.16, meaning that all assessments in the county would be increased by 16 percent.

"The state studies every county every year, comparing the assessments with what properties are selling for. In 1975, the legislature changed the proper assessment to 33 and one-third percent of the actual market value, defined as average of the three years immediately preceding the assessment year," she explained.

That means the average price a home would have sold for in the 1977, 1978 and 1979 years should be used to determine the proper sales ratio, which then should be used to determine whether the assessments for Nameoki Township, done "by the manual," were done properly.

"When state determines whether a multiplier is necessary, they use that three year average," she added.

Last year, Chouteau Township was among three completely reassessed by the county. "After assessing them, we found we overshot, but we corrected that with a multiplier of less than one, so the final was where the three-year ratio study said it should be," Mrs. Hostetler explained.

If it is determined the new assessments for Nameoki Township are too high, a negative multiplier may be imposed, reducing the assessments, she added.

Eventually, all smaller townships will be reassessed by Barton's office under the county-wide plan, it was explained.

Large townships, including Granite City, can afford full assessing staffs and "this office doesn't do anything with them," except to review the assessments of the local assessor to determine whether multipliers are needed, Mrs. Hostetler said.

While the assessments should increase an average of 14 percent in Nameoki Township, after multipliers are imposed, some individual parcels will see big increases, she explained. "We have gone through the books and found inequities which require big shifts just to equalize. There are a lot of examples of gross underassessment and a lot of examples of gross overassessment. But, because of inflation, the net effect is going to be an increase for almost everybody," she added.

The Nameoki Township assessment increase, by the time the whole process is done, will be close to the county average, the contended.

"The county, as a whole, has to increase 16 percent in 1980, based upon the three-year sales ratio. If we don't do anything locally, they (the state) are going to put a 16 percent multiplier on the whole county.

"The question is, 'Should we sit here and let the state kick us up or should we do something on the county level by doing the reassessment on our own?' We decided to do it ourselves," she added.

After reassessment by the county and the township assessors, the county Board of Review will impose individual township multipliers, if necessary, to avert a state-imposed multiplier.

That has been a Board of Review function every year since 1975, she added.

Macios said the county "has you coming and going. You almost have to reassess every year to avoid a multipolier, and none of the township assessors are willing to do this. We don't have the funds."

The township assessor added, "The only thing he (Barton) is doing right now equalizing everyone on the basis of the high inflated costs of homes. "If there are 25 sales in the whole township, the inflated prices paid for those homes are applied to the whole township," he contended. Since home sales are down 30 to 40 percent this year, every home is being reassessed on the basis of very few sales, he believes.

"We don't have the funds to reassess every year. I guess that's why they (Barton's employees) are trying to squeeze out the township tax assessors.

The taxes on the new sanitary sewers in Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships also will go up with higher assessed valuations, Macios warned, noting that the high sewer taxes already have forced some families to move from the township.

While Macios and Barton's office have many disagreements, there is one thing they can agree upon. The assessments published in today's Press-Record for homes in Nameoki Township will be higher, with very few exceptions. The assessment list, giving the assessed valuation of every parcel of property in the township, begins on page 17 today.

Subsequent Press-Records will detail the assessments for Venice and Chouteau townships. Granite City Township assessments appeared in last Monday's issue.

we bring education to them, and we bring with it the story of Christ.

"Today the Liberians are realizing their country is a bit backward," Pastor Renfroe said.

The official language is English, however, in the small country of Liberia there are 32 dialects.

Liberia has just undergone a military coup, but Pastor Renfroe feels that this will turn out to be good for the country.

The government does not interfere with the work of the missionaries as, according to Pastor Renfroe, they recognize the value of the missionaries to the country.

The standard of living is improving under the current government, he said.

Church services in Liberia are a little different.

"We did not try to westernize the natives," Renfroe said.

"The services are quite rhythmical as they use their five tone scale and native drums. They will sing a few western hymns, but that is only to be polite."

Being in the "rain jungle" Liberia has a 300 inch annual rainfall.

A major cash crop is sisal, which is a fiber used in street sweepers and industrial type brooms.

Firestone Rubber Co. has the largest rubber plantation in the world. Rev. Renfroe noted that Firestone operates a tropical medical institute primarily to help the natives and employ 100,000 workers.

He further said that Firestone has recognized a social obligation to help the people of the country and have a very high acceptance in Liberia.

Bananas, cocoa and coffee are also crops raised for export in addition to hardwoods.

Palm nuts are exported for use in the making of Palmolive soap.

Rev. Renfroe will be speaking Sunday at 6:30 p.m. at the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, on his work in

375 at Head Start yule event

A total of 150 parents and 125 youngsters attended the annual Christmas party for the Granite City Head Start program held last week at Central Christian Church.

The program was sponsored by the Head Start Parent-Teacher Committee and was opened with the introduction of special guests by Mrs. Rita Ellis, committee president.

A history of Head Start was outlined by Mrs. Pat Early, a staff teacher.

At the present time, there are 74 children between the ages of 3½ and 4½ years enrolled in the Granite City program, she reported.

The youngsters sang Christmas songs under the direction of Mrs. Early and Mrs. Linda Aud, accompanied by Miss Judy Barnum at the piano.

Dinner was served, followed with the arrival of Santa Claus and his helpers, Amy and Alissa Aud, who distributed Christmas stockings filled with fruit, nuts and small toys.

Noting without the assistance of Granite City area merchants the Head Start children's party would not have been possible, Mrs. Ellis expressed appreciation to the many businesses which contributed donations and helped to make the event "very successful."

Girl Scout

Filmstrips may be shown in a public mall, bank or other business places to educate the public on programs instituted by the council to further the scouting movement and highlight careers in the five worlds of Girl Scouting.

The year 1981 is the international year of the disabled and troops are invited to identify disabled individuals or groups of girls, learn about their disabilities and share the Girl Scout program with them by inviting them to attend weekly troop meetings.

To show the public what girls have learned with the new recognitions the council suggests troop members hold a public demonstration on emergency preparedness or outdoor survival, demonstrate equipment in a store, offer a safe bicycling course to younger children in the community or have a family potluck.

A host of other ideas released by the council as suggested topics for projects includes spending a day with city officials and sharing the experience with their families at the end of the week, contact a local hospital and "adopt" a baby girl born on March 12, hold an essay contest in conjunction with the theme of "Why I Love Being a Girl Scout in the 1980's.

Also hold a school assembly for non-scouts on Girl Scouting, host a tea for former Girl Scouts who helped start the program in the community, plan a project for the troop sponsor and remember Friends of Girl Scouting solicitations are targeted for the week.

According to the council office there are 2,100 adult volunteers and 13,000 girls active in scouting programs in the council.

The organization, which started with only 18 members in 1912, now numbers more than three million girls and adults working together to improve the quality of life, now and in the future, Miss Busch announces.

She added, "Since 1912 more than 42 million girls and women have gone on to important roles in the home, the community, and the world. Girl Scouting is dedicated to the principles of preparing girls and young women for the future, and helping them achieve their fullest potential.

"To be a Girl Scout does not mean just another activity sandwiched in between school and clubs for the girls. Active membership can be a springboard to significant involvement with people, with the community, and with the world of the future.

"Girl Scouting's contemporary program is built on a foundation of proven values and is designed to help a girl make intelligent choices for herself, her career and her future.

Strengthened by the program itself, Girl Scouting brings to each girl an awareness of her own personal worth and a chance to grow as an individual," the public relations officer noted.

Officers of the River Bluffs Council said, "We urge all to join with our local Girl Scouts in this celebration."

well as the businesses and industries.

MECCA has been organized since 1960, but the Quad-City area was not active again until last year, when Livingston joined the board (after a previous period of activity in the 1960s).

Evers has not served on the MECCA board before, but is past president of the Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-Cities and said he has long agreed with the concept toward which MECCA is working.

"It's simple. Either we all pull together or pull in separate directions and get nothing accomplished. The potential of this area is tremendous, but it is going to take a joint effort and a group like MECCA to coordinate it," Evers concluded.

Nameoki Methodist Women's program

The United Methodist Women of Nameoki United Methodist Church will hold the annual Call to Prayer and Self-Denial observance at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Jan. 5, at the church.

Major events of the observance is the "Quiet Day" and descriptions of mission projects for which a special offering is given, according to Mrs. Helene Bischoff, UMW president.

The Women's Division of the General Board of Global Ministries of The United Methodist Church sponsors the observance which, this year, is based on the theme, "Children: Advocacy and Ministry."

In the United States, the offering may be used for projects such as a center for abused and neglected children and their parents, a special weekend day care center in a women's prison where inmates may care for their own children at that time, an integrated day care center and community resource exchange in Mississippi.

A school for Lakota (Sioux) children which teaches their cultural values as well as the "three R's," a United Methodist hospital specializing in pediatrics in a poverty-stricken Hispanic border community or a project for the early detection and prevention of development retardation among children.

Mrs. Bischoff said some examples of projects from other countries which may receive support include:

A training program for deaf children in Hong Kong, new facilities for mentally retarded children in Chile, community mental health projects in Nigeria, "rescue centers" which provide education and job training for destitute children in Nairobi, Kenya, day care centers which also furnish health and dental care for poor families in Santiago, Chile, equipment and teaching materials for Southern African children's refugee centers in Tanzania, or medical equiment and supplies for mother-and-child care centers in Palestinian refugee camps.

The service for Quiet Day, entitled "Of Such Is the Kingdom," was written by Ann Rader Pfisterer and focuses on children, their needs and qualities.

About 1.5 million women in 33,000 local units in all 50 states will join in the observance. All area women are invited to attend.

Last year, the offering totaled $829,209, an increase of $14,048 over the previous year.

Nameoki Demos seek non-partisan ballot

The Nameoki Township Democratic precinct committeemen voted unanimously early this week to continue the township's tradition of running a non-partisan township election next April.

The action means that no parties will run under either the Democratic or the Republican names, but will choose other names not related to the major parties.

Nine Democratic committeemen attended the meeting at the Pizza Pit Restaurant in Gaslight Walk Shopping Center to consider the non-partisan resolution, which was suggested by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

On a motion by Committeeman Joe Garcia, the committee directed the township clerk, Douglas Teetor, to send notice to the Republican committeemen of the action taken by the Democratic committeemen.

Van Arsdale was charged with reckless driving and transporting beer and bourbon, and a passenger, Terence Hauck, 21, Biloxi, Miss., was booked for possession. Jill Sandler was charged with transporting beer and Donald Morrison, 20, Florissant, with possessing beer. Both vehicles were towed away after the crash.

Jail and fine

Bernard Woodrome, 22, of Madison, pleaded guilty Monday, according to Madison police, to charges of battery, resisting arrest, disorderly conduct and criminal damage to property.

He was sentenced to 30 days in the Madison County jail beginning Friday and fined $800 plus $50 court cost.

Police while on routine patrol at 2:44 a.m. Sunday, reported they saw Woodrome dragging a girl in the street at 12th and Greenwood streets, Madison, n front of a tavern.

A fight then broke out between another man, and Woodrome.

Woodrome allegedly fought a Madison police officer and broke the officer's glasses.

Force had to be used to get Woodrome into the police car as he allegedly was still struggling after being handcuffed.

When taken to the Madison jail Woodrome, according to police, refused to go inside and continued his attempt to fight police.

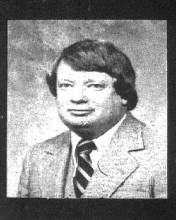

Venice police assisted Madison in getting Woodrome into a cell.

with them their subdivision name and lot number so that assessments extended this year can be compared with those of the previous year.

"I feel that the high increases are due to inflation and to rising unemployment," Bowler said.

The alderman said that assessments have risen far out of bounds and that the time has come "to do something about it."

Bowler said he knows of one instance in which two very similar houses in the same block, with the same floor space and identical in construction, have extensive differences in assessment increases.

"One of these houses increased in assessment by $5,000, while the other increased by only $200.

"The only difference is that the one which increased by $200 has a full basement, while the other does not," the alderman said.

He added that the increases in many instances affect the working people, as well as those with fixed incomes.

Bowler noted that the average increase for all homes in the Pontoon Plaza subdivision was $3,390 or 34.3 percent.

The increases ranged from 16 to 48 percent, he said.

Venice city payroll in jeopardy

Concern over meeting city payrolls through the end of the fiscal year was a major topic of discussion at the Venice City Council meeting Tuesday evening.

Mayor Tyrone Echols expressed concern over the fact that the city had received only $3,800 in the past few days from Madison County in tax money. It was noted that the amount was listed by the county treasurer's office as "partial payment."

Mayor Echols stated, "We have a $30,000 payroll to meet on Jan. 7 and, unless we get more money, we are in trouble. We cannot tell when the replacement tax money will come in and federal revenue sharing funds are paid quarterly.

"We have to meet payrolls between now and the end of April. This can be a problem. As aldermen, you are going to have to face the fact that we are being forced to either cut personnel or raise taxes.

"We have some bright spots in the future with the railroad relocation and expansion and the American Track Co. relocation, but right now, we are hurting," Echols said.

The mayor said he would be checking with the county treasurer about the amount received in taxes and would meet with the city treasurer (who was not at the meeting), to take a "hard look" at what money is coming in and from what sources.

The council was informed by Bankers' Life Insurance Co. that the insurance premiums for city workers would be raised between $8 and $12 a month beginning Feb. 1.

Hearing on worker compensation self-insurance regulatory plans

New state legislation permits employers to form groups for the purpose of self-insuring their workers' compensation liabilities. The General Assembly action directed Philip R. O'Connor, director, Illinois Department of Insurance, to propose regulations to implement the legislation.

Rules describing requirements for employers who form a group to self-insure their liabilities under the Workers' Compensation Act have been promulgated and public hearings on these regulations have been scheduled.

One will be in Chicago at 160 N. LaSalle St., Room 1800, on Jan. 30, 1981, and another will be in Springfield at 320 W. Washington St., Fourth Floor, on Feb. 5, 1981. Both hearings will begin at 9:30 a.m.

"For the first time, we will see employers grouped in self-insured pools providing a competitive element that I hope will improve the health of the work comp marketplace," said O'Connor.

The insurance director warned that a lack of care in developing and managing the pools could destroy long-term opportunities by generating insolvencies or weak, unattractive pools.

"In our effort to draft the self-insured rules," said O'Connor, "We have given careful attention to five important rules."

"1. Sufficient numbers of exposures so as to spread risk adequately.

"2. Adequate asset base to fund potential liabilities.

"3. Reasonable expectation of individual pool member solvency.

"4. Maintenance of pool attractiveness and avoidance of adverse selection.

"5. Necessity to avoid confusing self-insurance with no-insurance."

O'Connor said he hopes testimony at the hearings will provide "empirically based arguments, not wishful thinking by employers, insurers and their agents."

The proposed regulation requires that an application be made for a certificate of authority to be issued by the Department of Insurance.

The application must report how costs are to be proportioned among members; what the aggregate loss history of members has been for each of the last three years; what the combined workmen's compensation experience for the group has been for the last three years; and any other financial data requested by the director of insurance.

Other key elements of this legislation, said O'Connor, are those requirements aimed to insure the viability of self-insured groups.

These include, he said:

A. The requirement that loss reserves be sufficient to cover unpaid claims.

B. Restricting the amount of risk exposure for each pool.

C. Creation of a minimum size for both pools and members.

D. Establishment of performance standards for those who provide service to pool administrations.

E. Provision of a framework for analysis of viability prior to initial operation of a pool.

The minimum number of employees for a pool member is 20, and the annual payroll must be at least $250,000.

Members of a self-insured group must have combined annual payrolls of at least $10 million.

Copies of the proposed rule may be obtained by writing or calling Jackie Gammaitoni at the Department of Insurance (217-785-1791).

Any person wishing to submit oral or written comment on this rule must contact Robert N. Enoex Jr., acting chief counsel, Department of Insurance, 320 W. Washington St., Springfield 62767, on or before Jan. 26.

The hearing officer is Thomas W. Jenkins, special counsel to the director of insurance.

VERN V. COCHRAN, 76, of the Edwardsville Care Center, formerly of Granite City, who died Dec. 23. Services were held Monday at a Mountain View (Mo.) funeral home.

Cars collide on Route 3

A Granite City Fire Department pumper, the rescue truck, a city ambulance, tow trucks and police cars were called to Route 3 and West Pontoon Road, at the entrance to the Granite City Army Installation, at 11:45 a.m. Sunday after two cars collided, injuring both drivers.

Belton Gale, 56, of East St. Louis, was pinned in his car and rescue workers had to pry him free. However, he suffered only pain to his back and was released after emergency room treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The other driver, Kenneth D. Harris, 22, of 2224 Washington Ave., was taken by a Granite City ambulance to the medical center, where he also was treated for back pain and was released.

The fire pumper was required to wash spilled gasoline from the pavement. There were no witnesses as to which driver had the green light when they collided, according to official reports.

Gale's auto was northbound on Route 3 and Harris' auto was westbound on Niedringhaus Avenue, turning left onto Route 3 when they collided, according to the reports. Gale's auto spun after impact into a traffic sign before coming to rest.

New facilities, presidential visit in '80

Nineteen eighty brought an economic recession, unemployment and inflation, all of which were a factor in Republican Ronald Reagan defeating incumbent Democrat Jimmy Carter for the presidency. There also were many positive occurrences in the Quad-City area and elsewhere.

Helping tell the story of the past year were these Press-Record staff photographs. Taking them were Chief Photographer Pat Foley and Mick Strange, Gary Schneider and Ed Sedej. Also represented on this page is a non-staff member who is highly skilled at photography—Dr. A. W. Trtanj.

An unprecedented fifth straight Illinois state soccer championship was achieved by the Warriors of Granite City High School South, shown expressing happiness over their tournament success.

On the eve of the national election, President Carter spoke on the GCHS South campus, making a strong plea for a second four-year term in the White House. Applauding the waving chief executive is State Senator Sam Vadalabene of this district.

Madison students moved into their middle school (6th, 7th and 8th grades) during the spring. Al Von der Haar was among the teachers moving supplies into the newly-completed building.

A 135-foot tower was erected in the 1800 block of Delmar Avenue in June, enabling cable television to begin in Granite City and nearby unincorporated areas.

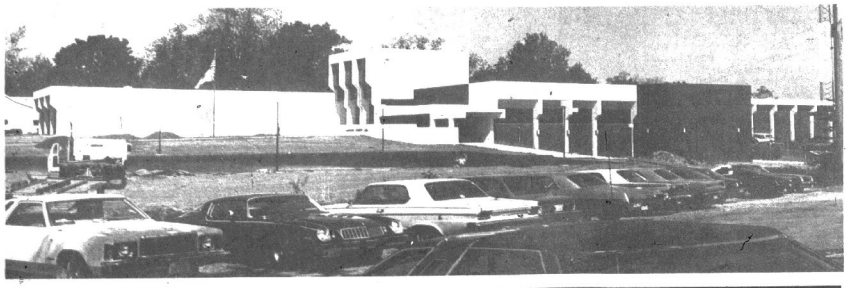

Pouring of concrete piers proceeded during the fall months at the $5.9 million overpass which will carry vehicular traffic over the 19th Street railroad crossing. The structure will link West Granite City and the downtown business district.

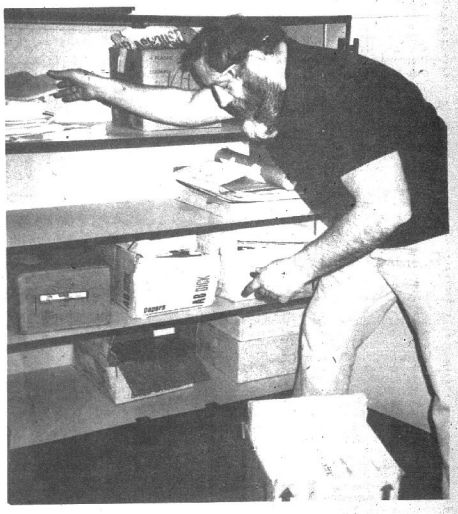

A new 200x70-foot truck terminal costing $750,000 was built by the Kreider firm at Washington and Collinsville avenues, Madison, enabling trucks to be loaded directly from railroad cars hauling stable bulk foods.

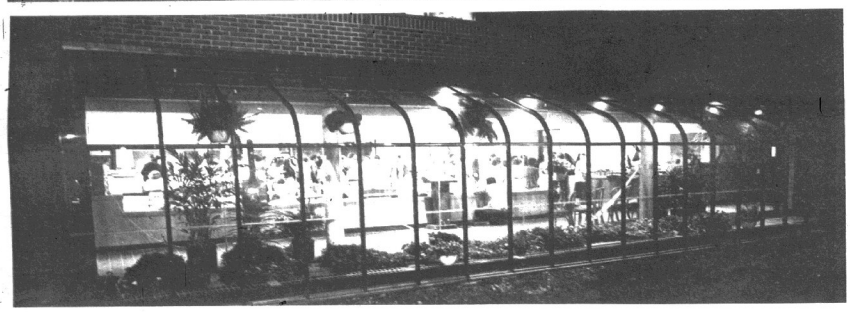

A multi-million-dollar expansion continued at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. The nighttime view is of the new cafeteria, scene of mid-summer midnight ceremonies dedicating it to the late Sister Bonaventure, former hospital laboratory director. The multi-level dining facility has an adjacent greenhouse.

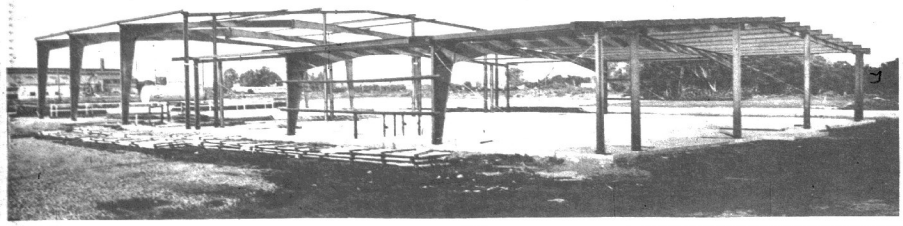

Madison County's 72,000-square-foot jail was finished and dedicated in May. It contains 116 individual cells and is equipped with closed-circuit television to monitor jail activity.

With 1980 ending, is '1984' or peace approaching?

The end of 1980 may be a good time to ask how close the world is to the Orwellian 1984. It is closer in time. But is the world also moving toward a moral breakdown?

The United Nations would appear to bear witness that it is. While the world is plagued with war in the Persian Gulf, Soviet aggression in Afghanistan, and genocide in Southeast Asia, the UN devotes nearly all its resources to condemning Israel. UN forums on women, health and labor have become forums for hatred and hypocrisy. The halls of that Tower of Babel in New York City have been converted to pressrooms and dormitories for Israel's would-be destroyers.

The United States inappropriately has not only associated itself with but agreed with the resolutions of a "pack of jackals," as they were branded in late December by the Washington Post. When the American delegate voted to condemn Israel for expelling two rabble-rousers, he not only reversed the American policy of two prior votes but indicated to the "jackals" that the U. S. approved of their open hunting season.

It may not be a surprise that anti-Semitism grew during 1980 after being "legitimized" again by the UN. Soviet officials' statements reflected it, as did their crackdowns on Jews and emigration. Neo-Nazi activity increased in western Europe, and terrorism incited by the Palestinian Liberation Organization spread in France, Germany and Britain.

But 1980 was not a particularly good year for the PLO. Its standing in the Arab world was undermined by Arab diagreements and the Iraq-Iran war. Israeli raids on PLO terrorist bases further weakened it.

Cracks in the Arab world's unity became visible after the Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty, and in 1980 the cracks became chasms. The Iraq-Iran war, now in its fourth month, shows no signs of abating. Jordan and Syria were on the brink of war against each other last month.

Syria's internal disorder became so unmanageable that President Assad sought treaties with Libya and the Soviet Union. Saudi Arabia, Jordan, Iraq and the Gulf states all rejected the new Syrian-Libyan-Soviet troika.

War simmers between Morocco and its radical neighbors. Libya's attacks on Chad have sent alarm through black Africa. And Lebanon is raked by Syrian and Palestinian gunmen.

At the end of the year, pan-Arabism is a myth and pandemonium is the reality.

In a year of Middle East turmoil, the stability of Israeli-Egyptian relations was 1980's most encouraging sign in that part of the world. Trade, communication, travel and diplomatic relations increased. The inability of certain Arab and European nations to disrupt those relations promises that peace between the two countries will continue to prosper.

President-elect Reagan has pledged his support to the Camp David process. His Cabinet choices, including Jeane Kirkpatrick as UN ambassador, indicate there will be a strong American stand at the United Nations. This nation's position in the Middle East seems destined to be strengthened in the coming year, both diplomatically and militarily.

The incoming president has already announced his intention to bring rejectionist nations into the peace process with Israel. With this and other trends in mind, the happiest development during 1980 could well prove to be the old year's promise that the U. S. will be able to contribute materially to world peace in the new year.

Dollar is fighting back as the year draws to a close

Nobody is claiming that American economic problems have disappeared, certainly not steelmakers, auto firms and others producing goods vulnerable to the recession, inflation and foreign competition. But the balance of payments exchanged with our trading partners abroad is expected to shift in 1980 to its first surplus since 1976.

Thanks mainly to reduced demand for foreign oil, the third-quarter 1980 surplus of almost $5 billion wiped out deficits during the first two quarters and virtually assured a slight surplus for the entire year.

The measure of goods, services, foreign aid, loans to foreigners, the movement of gold, and payments to Americans living overseas is perhaps the most promising indication that the U. S. dollar is due for a revival—along with the increased talk of a balanced federal budget.

While worldwide inflation and a deepening recession abroad could curtail U. S. exports—Illinois continues to lead in the exporting of several key farm commodities—the evidence that energy conservation efforts are starting to take hold is encouraging.

Dependence on oil from overseas remains at the root of our economic problems, along with productivity concerns.

Continued determination to limit use of foreign oil and to increase domestic energy output not only can brighten this nation's energy outlook but also help stimulate a return to economic health.

Opportunity for conservatism in 1981

By RICHARD LESHER
President,
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

We've reached that time again when the television airwaves seem to be filled with either one of two subjects: football, football and more football, or television specials describing and explaining everything of importance that occurred during the previous 12 months, and predicting what we should watch for in the months to come.

Without trying to compete with the blow-by-blow accounts of the former, or match the comprehensive commentaries of the latter, here is how I believe the highlights of 1980 may one day be described in American history books.

It was the year when major forces came together and put an end to 50 years of liberalism, while placing us squarely on the road toward a new conservative age — an age that could lead to a new era of great economic progress synonymous with human progress.

Personally, I have no doubt that this has happened.

There is a newly-found emphasis by Americans today on regaining physical fitness, restoring the importance of work, of family, of community and of renewing their faith in God — in essence, of seeking the best in themselves and in each other.

What's more, this return to the so-called traditional values has been accompanied by the most sweeping upheaval in our political system in the last 50 years — one that augurs precisely that fundamental change in the direction of our government which I mentioned.

But while I am convinced we have embarked on a new course, I would be the first to admit one question remains in doubt: will the new conservative era continue to build and eventually succeed? I say that because I can already see it being threatened by three major risks.

First, an attitude of overcomplacency by the public in general and the business community in particular. The attitude is: "We won it all, so there is nothing left to do or worry about."

I would argue just the opposite — never have we had a greater need for legislative and political activism originating at the grassroots.

There is all the difference in the world between enunciating legislative proposals and following through to ensure they are passed by Congress and fairly administered by the executive agencies.

We would have never gotten trapped in the morass from which we are just now beginning to extricate ourselves if so many well-intentioned Americans had not simply sat back and allowed liberals to take over the government.

And no one should believe that big spenders and environmental and regulatory extremists inside the Washington bureaucracy will now simply roll over and play dead because of the results of one election.

Second, an attitude of arrogance and extremism which makes demands that are unreasonable, unrealistic or unacceptable to the public at large.

The mandate of Nov. 4 is for less government. It is for more private enterprise.

However, in no way should this be interpreted as signifying less concern for a clean environment, for safety in the workplace, or for honesty and reliabity within the enterprise system.

We are not entering an era where we virtually eliminate most government programs. Rather, the business community must take the lead in the reform of government.

Third, an attitude of overexpectation by the public at large.

The election permits us to attempt a clean break with the past and to begin anew. It did not provide us with a magic wand which we can wave once to produce a painless panacea.

It's been said before — but it cannot be overemphasized — that problems whose origins date more than 10 years will not be cured in one year's time.

Nevertheless, we can make steady progress if we get started right now and make up our minds to pursue our goals with determination.

If there is anyone who is a logical leader to accomplish this difficult but terribly important job, it is the members of the business community.

We have waited a long time for the opportunity to get America back on track, and now that we finally have it, we must not allow it to slip away.

If we do, who knows how long it would be before we have another? And who can even imagine what kind of problems America would be facing then?

Selective Service registration Jan. 5-10

Quad-City area men who were born in 1962 will be required to register for Selective Service during the week of Jan. 5, 1981, along with a nationwide sign-up.

Men born in 1963 (and later) will be required to register within 30 days of their 18th birthday.

The registration is a continuation of the program begun last summer when men born in 1960 and 1961 visited post offices across the nation to fill out the forms.

Registration is being held to establish a pool of names from which the Selective Service System could draw in an emergency.

All registrations will be at the post offices in the city in which the registrant lives.

According to Dr. Bernard D. Rostker, director of the system, "Registration directly improves our capability to respond, actually reducing lead time by at least four weeks."

Registration guidelines require men (citizens and aliens) residing in the United States born in 1960, 1961 or 1962 to register. Exceptions to this rule are students on visas or men who are members of trade or diplomatic missions, and men already on active duty.

To avoid long lines at the post offices, registrants are encouraged to register on a day of the week keyed to the month of birth, as follows:

Men born in January, February or March to register Jan. 5

Those born in April, May or June to registser on Tuesday, Jan. 6.

Those born in July, August and September on Wednesday, Jan. 7, and those born in October, November and December on Thursday, Jan.8.

Friday and Saturday, Jan.9 and 10, will be used as "make up" days for those unable to register on the suggested day.

Dividends to Illinois veterans

Veterans of Illinois will receive $31,147,000 in dividends during the year 1981 on insurance they have kept in force since their active duty days.

Donald R. Ramsey, director of the Veterans Administration regional office in Chicago, said the dividends will be paid on the anniversary of the policy. No application is needed, as they are paid automatically.

Sharing in the dividends in Illinois will be 206,199 veterans who served in World War I, World War II and Korea. There is no government insurance for the Vietnam era veterans.

Ramsey said the dividends will be larger than 1980, since the funds earned higher interest rates during the past year. Nationally, the dividends will amount to $619 million, or $53 million higher.

Policyholders will receive varying amounts depending on the type of policy, the amount of insurance in force, the insured's age at issue or renewal, and the time the policy has been in force.

The average amount to be paid to the 3,373 World War I veterans with current policies is $296. The dividends will total $1,027,000.

World War II veterans who have kept their insurance policies in force in the state number 163,438. Total dividends will be $27,200,000, with an average of $168 each.

Korean war policyholders, who number 10,182, will receive an average payment of $67. Total dividends will be $641,000.

Disabled veterans who have a special type of GI insurance will also receive increased dividends, according to Ramsey. These policies earned dividends for the first time in 1980. This year's average dividend will be $96.

In Illinois, there are 5,566 veterans in this category and they will receive $184,000 during the year.

Only policies whose premiums are current receive dividends from the VA.

A rumor persists over the years that World War II veterans can receive a dividend from policies lapsed years ago. This is not a true, Ramsey concluded.

Special sewer taxes to rise

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Property owners in the special sewer area of Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships, faced with rising assessment levels and potentially higher taxes, have another shock coming.

Instead of going down, the tax rate for retirement of the bonds issued to construct the sewers probably will be going up next year, unless the assessed valuation increases greatly.

During this summer's tax collection, when 82½ cents were collected per $100 assessed valuation, a total of $318,879 was raised to pay interest on the bonds. There was no principal payment because the amortization schedule does not call for the first principal payment until 1981.

The amount of money needed in 1981 to repay both principal and interest will be collected next summer and will jump 82 percent to $582,825. Unless there is a large increase in the assessed valuation of the sewer district, homeowners will have to pay the increased amount through higher sewer taxes.

The amount needed for sewer bond and interest will increase almost yearly until 1984, when it will reach a peak of $603,573, the schedule shows.

Louis Whitsell, chairman of the county's special sewer committee, said he always believed the amortization schedule called for steadily decreasing payments on the bonds and interest.

He told the Press-Record, "We were quite shocked to hear that ourselves. We (the sewer committee) thought the schedule showed a gradual decrease over the 15-year life of the program."

He said that when the impending increase in payments was learned of by the sewer committee several months ago, the matter was turned over to the committee's attorney, H. Carl Runge, to investigate. Runge has not responded, Whitsell noted, saying, "We never got any answer."

County Auditor A.L. "Pete" Fields, asked by the Press-Record yesterday, found the amortization schedule on the sewer bond issue and confirmed that the amount does grow each year through 1984, when it levels out somewhat.

The payoff schedule, by year, follows:

1979 $570,854	1987 $579,212
1980 $342,510	1988 $580,774
1981 $582,510	1989 $580,574
1982 $598,135	1990 $578,375
1983 $601,823	1991 $574,125
1984 $603,573	1992 $568,250
1985 $578,385	1993 $585,750
1986 $578,360

Total pay off-$8,513,210

Red tape may hamper alternate bus service

When the county's new transit board holds its first meeting at 9:30 a.m. Monday in the county courthouse at Edwardsville, one of the items on the agenda is likely to be the possible breaking away from local dependence on the Bi-State Transit Agency for bus service. The transit board may seek proposals from Vandalia Bus Lines and others on providing local bus service.

However, the transit board members may discover that may be much easier to discuss than to see become a reality, according to Matt Melucci, executive director of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

A memo from Melucci to Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City details some of the steps necessary for Madison County to contract with another company for bus service in this area, not the least of which is getting the federal Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA) to recognize the replacement bus service as a "designated recipient" of federal subsidy funds.

Such recognition would require the concurrence of the approved regional transit authority, which is the Bi-State Development Agency, operator of the Bi-State Transit Agency.

It also would have to have written approval from the governor's office and be approved formally by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

Proof would have to be shown that the new bus system has the capability of: 1) implementing programs; 2) submitting programs for the Gateway Council's Transportation Improvement Program; 3) submitting application to UMTA; 4) exercising formal agreements with UMTA, and 5) fulfilling the requirements of a public hearing on the service.

In order to qualify to receive federal funds, the new bus service would have to agree to federal rules regarding personnel, including assuring all workers who may be affected by the change that their bargaining rights, wages and working conditions will be protected and that they will be given priority for employment or re-employment, according to Melucci's memo.

Also, labor agreements would have to be negotiated between the district manager and local union officials and certified by the secretary of labor, he says.

"This process is often long and involved and can delay receipt of funds. UMTA funds can be withheld if the local union opposes the new service due to proposed labor practices, such as the use of non-union or part-time employees, or if the agreement of service would result in large-scale layoffs of transit workers," the memo continues.

Also in order to qualify for local funding, the new bus service must provide lifts for wheelchair users and information systems for the blind and deaf.

"Compliance with this regulation can prove costly, especially to a small transit provider," Melucci says. "Although this requirement is being challenged in Congress, a recent opinion by the Department of Transportation counsel has not changed the department's interpretation of the regulation," he adds.

The other major provision which must be met is compliance with the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission, if the local buses are going to cross into Missouri, and the Illinois Commerce Commission in all cases. Regulations might include controlling the rate or fare structure, service patterns and insurance requirements, Melucci noted.

The memo also explains that a thorough study by his staff to attempt to find any situations nationally of an entity, such as a transit board, contracting with anyone other than the recognized transit authority for service, "we have been unable to find any situations which are directly similar to what some opponents to Bi-State are proposing.

"In general, where private companies are currently operating transit services and receiving federal and local subsidy, one of two situations exists. Either that company is operating a specific service, such as a subscription commuter service which the transit authority does not offer; or, the company had operated a transit service prior to the formation of a public authority and has continued operations, coordinated with services offered by the new public body.

"Although private transit companies can receive federal funding, such funds can only be assessed indirectly through a service contract with an eligible recipient. An eligible recipient could be a local governmental or a public not-for-profit corporation, such as a transit district or a transit operating authority.

"However," Melucci's memo continues, "federal funds may be used by a transit district, for instance, only when that body has been named a 'designated recipient' by the Urban Mass Transportation Administration."

He concludes, "It should be understood that the cost for a private carrier to provide services may be much more significant than expected when faced with the need to satisfy federal funding requirements."

In an interview with the Press-Record, Melucci said the memo was prepared, not to discourage the new transit board from investigating alternatives to Bi-State, but to acquaint the board of some of the problems it might encounter in trying to replace some Bi-State routes.

"East-West Gateway does not wish to take a side on this matter. If the Madison County transit board decides to further investigate providing alternative bus service, we will be at its service and will help the board in any way we can," he added.

Members of the new transit board, appointed last month by Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer, are Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City, County Board Member William Haine of Alton and Collinsville Township Supervisor Vi Tucker.

The board has the authority to levy up to a one-fourth cent sales tax to subsidize public transportation in the district. That tax may be imposed at Monday's meeting, since full state subsidization for Bi-State will end after today and Bi-State has threatened to greatly curtail bus service, unless the loss of state funds is made up by local transit districts immediately.

Warriors wrestle title from Steelers

GRANITE CITY — With 10 places and 212 points, Granite City South won another Granite City Holiday Wrestling Tournament here Monday and Tuesday. The Warriors finished with three individual champions, two second places, one third place, one fourth place and three fifth places.

Granite City North was second with 167½ points (complete results elsewhere)

"We figured to be competitive in this tourney," said South's coach, Bill Schmitt. "A couple of our kids did better than expected, and a few didn't."

Senior Dean Perkins was entered into the record books as one of the elite three-time champions of the tourney. He has won the past three years. Only six other athletes have done that in the 20 years of the tournament. Besides Perkins, Tom McElroy and Jim Frangoulis won in their respective weight classes.

McElroy, at 138 pounds, handed cross-town rival Glenn Thompson a 7-0 demonstration of wrestling techniques in the final. McElroy scored three near fall points in the second period to wrap up the victory.

Perkins had little difficulty in the first two periods of his 155 pound championship bout with Doug McClister, of Pekin. Perkins, leading 5-1, slipped while attempting a takedown in the third period and McClister fell on top of him for a takedown, 5-3. Perkins quickly retalliated and went on to win 8-4.

South's other champion came at the 185 pound category from the wrestling of Jim Frangoulis. Frangoulis easily handled Pekin's Scott Hunt, 10-6. The Warrior added two takedowns and an escape in the third period for the win.

Mike Trgovich and Randy Lupardus finished with second-places. Trgovich met Roxana's Rob Warren in the finals of the 105 pound division. Trgovich fell victim of a 12-0 loss to Warren. Lupardus, at 126, lost to Normandy's Josh Williams 2-0. The only points scored were a two point Normandy reversal in the second period.

South's 145 pound sophomore, Jon Frangoulis, took third-place by defeating Cahokia's Mike York 9-1. Frangoulis scored two sets of three point near fall points but could not pin York.

Senior Greg Garland, at 119, ended up in fourth-place after a disputed referee call in his third-place bout. While leading 8-0, Garland started on bottom at the start of the third period. Garland tried to reverse Ritenour's Fred Cantley and acidentally hit Cantley across the face with his knee. The referee stated that Garland intentionally struck Cantley with his elbow and awarded him one penalty point.

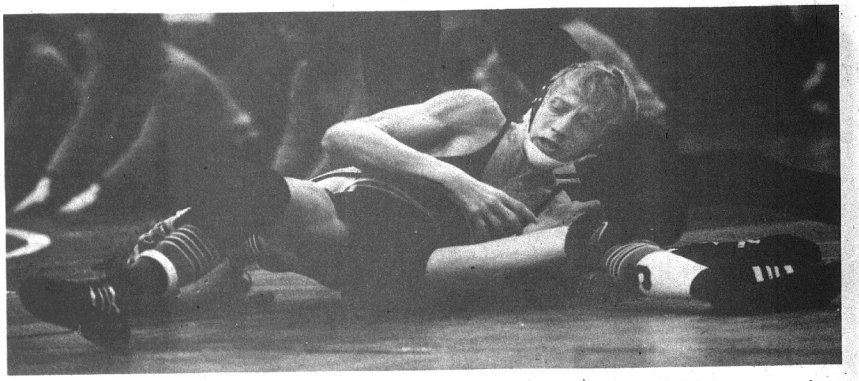

Cantley was shaken up on the play and did not continue to wrestle. Since there was a penalty on the call, Garland was disqualified and finished fourth. Canltey was awarded the bout and third-place.

In fifth-place for the Warriors are Chris Cottrell, Ken Dowdy, and Bruce Monahan. In his fifth-place match, Cottrell defeated 98 pound Mike Wood (RIT) 14-0. Dowdy, at 167, beat Joe Zakrzewski (RG) 6-5 and heavyweight Monahan destroyed Jeff Fay (ROX) 20-4.

Enroute to his 138 pound championship, McElroy beat Bill Denny (RG) 3-1 in the first round. In the next round, the Warrior defeated Thomspon (GCN) 11-4. (McElroy also wrestled Thompson in the finals.) In the last round of the first day, McElroy destroyed Dave Wiegand (WR) 17-2. He then whipped up on Jim Shillito (McN) 18-2. McElroy beat Denny again 3-1 then met Thompson in the finals, which he won 7-0.

Senior Dean Perkins opened his assault with a pin against Jamie Jackson (JAC) at the 5:03 mark in the 155 pound division. Perkins then stuck Jim Hellickson (McN) at the 1:22 point. He finished the day with a 16-2 decision over Greg Wehmer (HC). Perkins defeated John Foley (BE) 5-3 before defeating Scott Corey (GCN) 12-4 to enter the finals with

Madison edges Arlington 72-71

By PETE HAYES

of the Press-Record

CENTRALIA — It wasn't exactly the shot heard 'round the world, but Madison's 72-71 victory here Tuesday over Arlington Heights in the quarterfinals of the Centralia Holiday Tournament made some more believers for the Trojans' skeptics.

Madison, a perennial Class A state power, is playing in its first Centralia Tourney, Mond you, this is THE Centralia Tournament. The 38th annual. The grandfather of all tourneys. Quite a step up from the Freeburg Tournament the Trojans won handily a season ago. "Even if we don't win the tournament, we've shown we can play with the big schools," said Madison head coach Larry Graham. "We go to Freeburg and win it and people say, 'So what?' But if we come here and play with the big schools, we get more publicity than we've ever had."

"Play with" the big schools is exactly what Madison did in its first two games here. Monday, the Trojans toyed with a young Bradley Bourbonnais Boilermaker squad and came away with an easy victory (see related story). But yesterday, the Trojans almost toyed the game away.

The victory for Madison meant that the Trojans would face East St. Louis, a 20-point victor over Peoria Woodruff Tuesday, today at 1:15 in a semifinal matchup. It also meant that Madison, with the smallest enrollment in the tournament and unseeded, could finish no lower than fourth in the 16-team 23-game tournament.

Madison played just good enough to win against Arlington's Cardinals. "We just don't play defense," lamented Graham, in a voice so hoarse it was barely audible. "We play man-to-man and it doesn't work. Then we play a zone and it doesn't work."

Perhaps the best defense Madison had at times was Arlington itself. Seems the Cardinals couldn't hit the easy ones. "Arlington is a good team," said Graham. "They're very physical. They play a tough schedule. You can't help but play a tough schedule up there (in Chicagoland)."

As usual, Madison's best offensive weapon was Patrick Joe Hatter. The 6-3 senior pumped in 21 points and played the second half after falling on the court late in the second quarter and chipping his two front teeth. "They think they're chipped diagonally," said Madison assistant coach Dave Hodges. "One may have to be capped."

Hatter was trapped between two Arlington defenders and tripped trying to dribble the ball between the two. "He fell so suddenly that he couldn't get his hands out in front of him," said Hodges. "He fell right on his face."

But the accident didn't deter Hatter or his teammates. But even though they had chances to break the game open, Arlington came back.

The Cardinals found the back door open several times, but couldn't make the basket. When Madison finally closed the door, Arlington started hitting from mid-range, ten to 15 feet out. The big cog in Arlington's attack was 6-7 junior center Ted Wolfe, who ended the game with 18 points.

"They were tough inside," said Graham. "Very physical."

Madison's tallest player, 6-6 junior Mark Zarr, didn't perform up to Graham's expectations. He scored only one point and had only five rebounds. But he did block two shots. "Mark had a couple good blocked shots," said Graham. "But he's not playing as well as he could."

The strongman for the Trojans under the boards, as has been the case the last two seasons, was 6-4 senior Morris Hughes. He scored 16 points and had 12 rebounds. Nearly all of his points came from right underneath the basket, where he was there to rebound missed shots.

The victory for Madison raised its record to 7-1 on the season; the lone loss coming to Missouri powerhouse McKinley 101-97 in overtime. "A lot of people didn't think we'd be able to play with the big schools here at Centralia," said Hodges. "But they tend to forget that alarge part of our schedule is made up of big schools. We play against them all season.

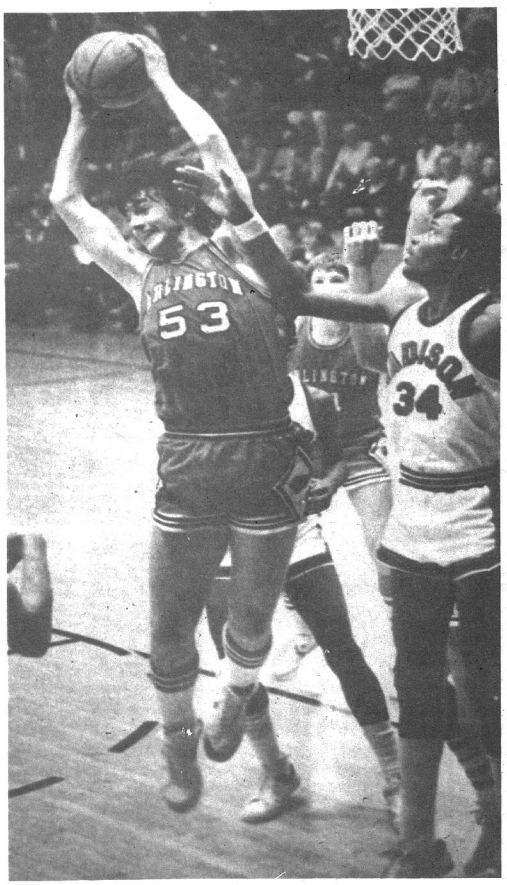

"Arlington was so patient," said Hodges. "But I thought our point guard played extremely well. He drew about five charging fouls and did some scoring, too." Hodges was speaking of Kerwin Stanley, the 5-8 senior guard who scored 16 points, nearly all of which came from the same spot at the top of the key.

"Stanley has to shoot the ball," said Graham. "But he had a good game."

Should Madison win its semifinal game, it would play again tonight against either Mount Vernon or Edwardsville at 9:30 for the championship. If the Trojans lose, they would play the loser of the Edwardsville-Moutn Vernon game for third place at 7 p.m.

Flyers, Tigers advance

CENTRALIA — Three of the four teams in the semifinals here at the Centralia Holiday Tournament are Metro-East teams. And it wasn't easy.

Besides Madison's 72-71 squeaker over Arlington Tuesday in quarterfinal action, East St. Louis bombed Peoria Woodruff 74-54, Mount Vernon upset top-seeded Homewood-Flossmore 50-44 and Edwardsville edged host team Centralia 47-44 to gain berths in today's semifinals.

East St. Louis 74,
Woodruff 54

It was a close game for three quarters. REAL close. But in the fourth period, East St. Louis exploded to outscore the Woodruff 32-14 and cruise to the victory. The victory raised East St. Louis' record to 9-0 and pitted them against Madison (7-1) in the first semifinal game today at 1:15 p.m.

But East St. Louis coach Coy Nunn wasn't exactly thrilled with with the way his team played. "I had to chew some people's butts," he said afterward. "They (Woodruff outplayed us in the first half. It was a tougher game that the score makes it look."

Exactly. At least for three periods, in fact, East St. Louis trailed by as many as seven points in the third quarter. But Woodruff couldn't buy a a basket in the fourth quarter — and ran out of gas. While Woodruff stayed with just about the same five that started most of the game, Nunn, as he has done year after year, dipped into his reserve strength. It finally wore the Warriors down.

An unusual series of events in the fourth quarter — when the game was still close — broke it open in favor of the Flyers. East St. Louis scored a six-point play. With the score 42-42, Woodruff's Robert Jackson fouled Flyer Glenn Moore. But Warrior Randy Hinton objected too harshly and was whistled for a technical foul. The Flyers made all three free throws. Getting the ball out of bounds after the technical, the Flyers' Tommy Johnson scored and was fouled. He made the free throw, completing the six-point play.

EDWARDSVILLE 67,
CENTRALIA 63

The Tigers upped their record to 7-1 with a narrow win over Centralia. With Edwardsville leading 65-63 with 18 seconds left, Centralia appeared to have tied the game on a layup by Dee Evishi. But he was called for travelling and the Tigers had dodged the bullet.

The third place game will be tonight at 7:30. The championship game will be at 9:15 p.m.

South (finally) gets first victory, 64-43

By TOM SCHOCKER

WOODRIVER — It was a long time coming.

Yesterday's Granite City South victory over Roxana in the consolation bracket of the Wood River Tournament wasn't exactly record-setting. But after ten tries, the Warriors were successful in filling the win column.

In fine defensive form, the Warriors advanced to the championship round of the consolation bracket with a 64-43 beating of the Roxana Shells.

South's next opponent was to have been the Piasa Southwestern Birds for the consolation championship today at 4:30 p.m. Southwestern earned the right to play South when it dumped the Dragons of Clinton, Tennessee in the other consolation semi-final contest, 80-71.

It's funny to think that South could actually beat up on a team and still manage to win. The latter never seemed to come true.

But the Warriors had a reputation to uphold.

This being the fourth annual holiday tourney for Wood River, South, in the past three years, hasn't been use to going home empty handed. In 1977 and 1978, the Warriors took the championship trophy and last year they finished second to host Wood River.

"I think past accomplishments should have given them (South) confidence," said Warrior head coach Don Deterding. "We have gotten a trophy every year." For the first 16 minutes of play, South performed as if it was in the championship game again.

A pressing full court zone defense by the Warriors resulted time and time again in mishandled balls by the Shells or deflected passes with eventual steals. South caused Roxana to turn the ball over eight times in the first quarter.

It gave the Warriors ample opportunites to build a lead. South held Roxana scoreless for the first four minutes of the contest as it clicked for the opening six points. It was another two minutes before the Shells found their second hoop. By that time, the Warriors we up 10-4.

"Granite South put on an impressive trapping defense," said Roxana head coach Mark Scroggins. "We couldn't handle it and they made us play their game."

The tone was set. South came out with fire in its eyes. Guards Jim Choat and Joe Schnefke caused Roxana to turn the ball over a few more times and the Warriors were rolling at 20-6. "Choat played an FREEBURG — They were seeded number one, so naturally why wouldn't they win the whole thing. The Freeburg Midget s did just that. Placed as the number one in the Freeburg-Columbia Holiday Basketball Tournament, the Midgets rolled through their own tourney to the championship with an impressive 81-59 win over Marissa here Tuesday.

Tested only once throughout the entire tournament, Freeburg's average winning margin was 18 points. Paced by the tourney's most valuable player, Paul Stumpt popped in 26 points. Dennis Tewell added 16 while Jolla Robinson and Ron Bergkoetter threw in 15 a piece.

Brent Huggins led the scoring for second place Marissa as he scored 23 points. Huggins was also picked a member of the All-Tournament Team along with Tewell and Robinson from Freeburg.

Columbia, went on to capture third place as it scored a 55-53 win over Gibault.

Venice falls victim to 'new' Greyhounds

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press Record

FREEBURG — Respect. That's all the Venice Red Devil basketball team wanted.

At the Freeburg-Columbia Holiday Tournament, the Red Devils posted their second win of the season in the consolation quarterfinals Saturday over Chester. They had a chance to move into the championship game. A win there would prove that their 2-7 mark was only numbers.

But Lebanon wouldn't let Venice get out of the semi-finals as Venice took it on the chin, loosing 71-60 here Monday.

"We thought we would be in the finals, no matter what," said Red Devil head coach Ken Perkins. "What can you expect from a team that looses two games and is still in the tourney." Because of an open bracket, the Greyhounds fell under the tournament rules that the team that looses by the least number of points in the consolation round would advance.

"They (Lebanon) even lost to the littlest team in the tourney," said Perkins. Lebanon was dumped by Brookport (enrollment-92) who only have two players over six foot tall. But the Greyhounds took an embarassing rath upon Venice.

Paced by Charles Mandley's 18 points and an excellent performance of 19 tallies from Andre Stevenson off the bench, Lebanon built a 32-26 halftime lead. The Red Devils have been playing good ball, though and they weren't about to give up.

Keith Marchbanks found an inside track to the basket and chipped in three straight hoops as Venice put on a run.

Seven unanswered tallies had Perkins banging his hands and yelling his team on. The Red Devils were hitting everything they threw up. Maybe they thought it would continue as they started to blast from anywhere on the court.

Just as suddenly as Venice had grabbed the lead, 37-36, it lost it. The shots that were falling only minutes before, now were not even coming close. "We just wanted to get back in the game and go back to our game plan," said Perkins. "They tried to do too much and forgot to settle down."

In all the excitement generated by Venice's flurry of points, Lebanon remained calm. The Greyhounds promptly regained their composure and reeled off six straight points of their own. It was the last chance Venice would have an opportunity to break away.

"I don't know how much of this stuff you can blame to being young," said Perkins. "I've said this before, they made very young mistakes. But they are trying. They just don't have the experience on how to do it right."

The closest Venice was going the get was three points near the close of the third quarter. Not even Terron Ware's nine points in the final frame could do any good. He completed the day with 16 total tallies. "He hasn't been looking at the basket," said Perkins. "He's finally doing a good job. He's been a bright spot the last two days."

Another turn-around was from Archie Gardner. After his dismal performance in the Red Devil's win Saturday, Gardner came back strong to pump in a game high 21 points against Lebanon. Venice might have been able to make another run had Gradner been given a chance to score in the final quarter. He collected just two tallies in the last eight minutes.

"They weren't looking to give Gradner the ball," said Perkins. "Maybe it's a quota thing with the team. After a certain number of shots, you don't get the ball any more. But, he pays the price to shoot. I really think he's gun shy. The officals just don't see when he gets hacked."

Venice was ceratinly sent to the line enough times, but its second-to-the last tourney free throw average held true to form. Connecting on 12 out of 21 for a 57 percent. By the way, Lebanon was last in the tournament in free throw shooting. But it came out and hit 65 percent.

Special night for Redbirds

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Jack Buck, "The Master of Them All," will again MC the 1981 baseball gathering to be held on Saturday, Jan. 17, at 6:30 p.m. in the Prairie Capital Convention Center, Springfield. Doors will be open at 5:30 p.m. Price is $5 per ticket.

This year is "Salute to the Redbrds Night," with stars and superstars of the past, present and future. Invitations have been extended to many present and past Cardnal baseball greats. Cardinals from the great Gas House Gang era to the present will be in attendance.

This is a departure from past dinner formats because there is simply no place large enough to accommodate the number of fans who want to attend. There will be no food served but concessions are available just like at the old ball park.

The program will also vary somewhat from past dinners. We are planning a nine inning simulated baseball game There should be hitters (seakers) each inning and of course if any speaker should talk too long he undoubtedly will be given an "intentional walk" by Umpire in Chief, Jack Buck. Between innings (three minutes) there is organ music while those who may desire go for a hot dog, coke or a beer.

Trojans romp over Bradley

CENTRALIA — Going into his first Centralia Holiday Tournament, Madison head basketball coach Larry Graham was a little worried about his team's first-round game against Bradley-Bourbannais. Oh, it was the Bradley Boilermakers that had him worries, it was the starting time of the game. 9 a.m.

"We usually don't play very well early in the morning," said Graham, whose team won the 1977 state Class A championship.

But Madison didn't have much to worry about Monday against Bourbannais. The Trojans played with the Boilermakers for a half and then blew them out in the second half to coast to an 81-54 victory and the right to meet Arlington Heights in the quarterfinals of the prestigious tournament.

Graham took an unusual method to motivate his team. "I just asked them if they would have rather played at 9 o'clock or at 1:15 tomorrow," he said. "I guess they'd rather play at 1:15." Had Madison lost to Bradley, the Trojans would have had to face Belleville West (which lost to Arlington Heights in the first round) at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

"Winning and winning big here will give our program a lot of publicity," said Graham. "There were a lot of people who thought we'd come over here, lose our first two, and go home."

But there were a few green and white-clad Madison Trojans who had something to say about that. Led by Morris Hughes, the Trojans were never really in any danger of losing the game. Hughes, a 6-4 senior, scored a game-high 29 points, making good on an amazing 14-of-16 attempts from the floor.

Bradley fell to 2-8 with the loss, while Madison raised its record to 6-1. The Trojans broke open the game in the second quarter when they outscored the Boilermakers 23-12. Madison had a 16-14 lead at the end of the first quarter. After against outscoring Bradley Bourbonnais 16-14 in the third quarter, Madison outscored the Boilermakers 26-14 in the fourth period to walk away with the victory.

Oilers move one step closer to tourney title

WOOD RIVER — The Wood River Oilers moved one step closer to repeating as champion of their own Holiday Basketball Classic here Tuesday. Backed by a 37 point record performance from 6-6 senior center Dan Coddington, the Oilers moved into the championship game with a 77-41 beating over the Civic Memorial Eagles.

In the semi-final contest, Coddington broke the individual single game tournament scoring record. The mark was established and held by Eddie Taylor of Decatur-Lakeview when he pumped in 36 points against Southwestern in 1979.

"They were playing a box-and-one in the first quarter to try and stop Dan (Coddington)," said Wood River head coach Darrell Burd. "Of the 22 points we scored, Dan got only four. They (Bethalto) opened up in the second quarter after the other boys started scoring and we were abble to get the ball to Dan. He just went to work."

The Oilers capped off the game as they held the Eagles to a mere three points in the final stanza. Terry Shewmake was the only other Oiler to slip into double figures as he came up with 14. Jay Tomerlin and Chris Cowen headed the scoring for the loosers as they hit for 15 and 14 respectively.

The Oilers bid for a second straight tournament championship will have to be achieved at the expense of the Decatur-Lakeview Spartans. Decatur earned the right to meet Wood River in the finals when it edged by Litchfield 60-54 in the other semi-final action.

Dispite a 34 point performance from Melvin Bess of Litchfield, the Panthers couldn't catch Decatur in the end as it improved its tournament record to 7-4. It will be the second time the Spartans have played in the championship game, having lost to Granite City South in the finals in 1978.

The championship game between Wood River and Decatur-Lakeview will start at 7:45 p.m. It follows the third place game that pits Litchfield against Civic Menorial which begins at 6 p.m.

In the consolation bracket, the Southwestern Piasa Birds advanced to the championship game with a 80-71 win over Clinton of Tennessee. The Birds placed six players in the scorebook with five of them hitting in double figures.

Whiteside wins Holiday Marathon

ST. LOUIS — Over 1,000 Runners turned out on Dec. 21, a brisk Sunday morning, to participate in the "Seven-Up Holiday Half-Marathon" and 2.2 mile run beginning in Shaw Park in Clayton.

With the command of "Runners Toe Your Mark" and the shot of the starting pistol Phil Unverzagt, President of the Seven-Up Bottling Company in St. Louis, sent the runners off on a rolling out-and-back course which took them past Washington University and into Forest Park to the turn-around point.

One hour ten minutes and fifty-four seconds later, Nick Whiteside, an 18-year-old from Mount Vernon, Ill., finished the 13.1 mile course one minute ahead of favorite David Harris of Columbia, Mo. Whiteside, a freahman, attends Eastern Illinois on a track scholarship.

The top overall winner in the women's half marathon was St. Louisan, Carol Cook. The heavily favored Cook easily outdistanced the second place woman finisher. Cook, who ran her first marathon in New York this year in 2:46, recorded a time of 1:20:57.

Winners in the 2.2 mile run were Dennis Hinkamp, (11:03) in the men's division, and Sally Law (14:22) in the women's.

Winners of the 25 Age Groups in the two races were presented commemorative plaques and the overall winners received travel bags supplied by Tim McEvoy of Adidas.

Proceeds from the run, which was sponsored by the Seven-Up Bottling Company of St. Louis and the St. Louis Track Club, went to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

The winner in the 55-59 Men's Age Division was Bill Schmitt of Godfrey, head wrestling coach at Granite City South High School.

Mount Pulaski's Hilltoppers were led by Terry Lowe's 29 points. The Crusaders, who lost their third staright game to a Class A school, were paced in scoring by Szewszyk's 17 points.

North comes close, but finishes second

for the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY— The Granite City North wrestlers were favored slightly going into the 20th Granite City Holiday Wrestling Tournament. They didn't win it, but finiushed a strong second to crosstown school Granite City South. North finished with 167 points and two individual champions.

Senior Jerry Miller, one of few athletes to letter at North for four years in wrestling, won his third tournament and his name was entered into that category with only six other wrestlers. Mike Robinson was the other Steeler to win first-place in his weight class.

Along with two champions, North finished with two second-places, a third, a fourth, and a fifth-place for a total of seven places.

"We were kind of flat the first day," said Walt Whitaker, North's coach. "We came back strong to finish in second place. We had a couple of disappointments, but ..." North was in third-place team wise at the end of the first day with 62 points under Riverview and South. They finished second with 167 to South's 212.

Robinson wrestled at 98 pounds in the tourney and shut out Gary O'Bannon (HC) 5-0 in the title bout. Miller, at 112, dominated and beat John Beaudoin (RIT) 11-2 for the championship. North had two other wrestlers in the finals. They were Steve Smith at 119 and Glenn Thompson at 138.

Smith lost a squeaker to Greg Hampton (HC) 7-6 in the finals. Thompson was shut out by Tom McElroy (GCS) 7-0. That was the only time that North met South in the finals.

Scott Corey wrestled to a third-place finish at 155 pounds by defeating Greg Wehmer (HC) 4-0 in the third-place bout. Steve Gibson lost in the third-place match to George Hovis (RG) by a fall at the 2:47 point. Tim Wyrostek, at 185, defeated Ken Boyle (BE) 2-1 for fifth-place.

"We thought we could do better at 145 (Monte Kessler) and 167 (Bob Patton)," said Whitaker. Both of those had been doing fairly well in the season and both lost out of the tournament in the first rounds.

Robinson stuck Keith Grenzeback (WR) at the 1:24 mark in the opening round. He then lost to O'Bannon (HC), who he met and beat in the final, 6-4. Robinson bounced back with a 4:32 pin over Nick Van Nice (PEK). The Steeler continued with a 13-0 shut out against Scott Mitchell (SD) and a 3-2 decision over Rob Milazzo (ROX). Robinson then got revenge in the final with a 5-0 score with O'Bannon.

Miller, at 112, got a first period fall against Dave Hawkins (RG) in the first round. And a 57 second pin against Dave Foster (NOR) in the next round. Miller ended Monday with a 14-0 decision over Phil McIntyre (CAH). He then received a default in the quarterfinals. Miller advanmced to the finals by defeating Mike Plummer (ROX) 9-2. In the finals, he beat Beaudoin 14-2.

exceptional ball game," said Deterding. "The way he plays, he's in there for good. You take him and Schnefke and you've got a couple of hard nosed ball players."

The pair definitely inspired the rest of the squad to bare down on defense, which in the long run won the game for South. "The defense carried us again," sadi Deterding. "But it has carried us in all of our games."

It made Roxana committ 23 turnovers and was close in setting a defensive scoring record for the least amount of points allowed in a single game in the tournament. The record being 35.

It was good thing the Warriors produced such an outstanding dispfay of defense. Their offense wouldn't have raised any eye brows. "We missed too many dang easy shots under the basket," said Deterding.

Inside or outside, the Warriors did miss quite a number of shot. Connecting on 24 of 64 for a lowly 38 percent, South scoring production was not earth-shattering. Roxana, however, only hit 28 percent of its attempts.

When South did hit, it was Eric Waltenberger who collected the tallies. Going to the free throw line 10 times, Waltenberger made good on eight losses and totaled a game high 18 points. Choat and George Sykes were next in line with 11 a piece.

Although Schnefke, coming off a 19 point performance the day before, only chalked up six against the Shells, his defensive play was instrumental. "He played super defense and did a good job rebounding," said Deterding. Schnefke led the team with eight rebounds and the Warriors out-muscled Roxana 40 to 33.

"I'm really surprised they (South) haven't won a ball game until now," said Scroggins.

McClister, whom Perkins beat 8-4.

Frangoulis at 185 defeated John Thomas (BLO) 3-1 in his opening round. Then, Jeff Aslin (HC) fell victim to a Frangoulis pin at the 5:32 point of the match. The Warrior beat Jim Basler (RG), the defending champion, 3-1. Frangoulis pinned Martin Burt (NOR) and decisioned Dean Hollis (ROX) 11-2 before defeating Hunt (PEK) in the finals.

After the meet was over and South had been declared the champions, the Warrior grapplers picked up and carried Coach Schmitt around in a circular parade. They were happy. They won a tournament that they were not favored to win; North was.

Things will return to normal, now that another Holiday Tournament has ended. South will continue to impress the opponents and most of the wrestlers that met yesterday in the semi-finals and in the finals will meet again in the Districts and Sectionals.

Granite grapplers again lead the pack

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City South Warriors won their sixth championship of the South Holiday Wrestling Tournament here last night. It marked the 11th title for Granite City schools.

Two athletes made the elite group of three-time winners. North's Jerry Miller at 112 and South's Dean Perkins at 145, who won at 98 pounds in 1978 and at 112 last season. South's Dean Perkins won at 145 pounds in both 1978 and 1979 and at 155 this year.

Granite City South totalled 212 team points for the victory followed by their cross-town rivals, Granite North with 167 points. North, although favored going into this year's tournament, has never won a Holiday meet.

Pekin, also one of the favorites, finished in third place with 156 points. In fourth was the defending champion, Riverview Gardens with 137½. Hazelwood Central took fifth place with 135.

The other teams finished as follows: Ritenour, sixth, with 134½; Roxana, seventh, 120½, Cahokia, eigth, 116; Normandy, ninth, 104; Belleville East, 10th, 72; Decatur, 11th, 65½; McCluer North, 12th, 57; Jacksonville, 13th, 41½; Lincoln, 14th, 34; Bloomington, 15th, 30; and Wood River, 16th, 9.

South finished with three individual champions, North had two, and five other teams had one apiece. The winning Warriors were Tom McElroy at 138 pounds, Perkins at 155, and Jim Frangoulis at 185. North's champions were Mike Robinson at 98 and Miller at 112.

Roxana's Rob Warren won the 105 pound category of the tournament. Greg Hampton of Hazelwood Central won at 119. At 126, Normandy's Josh Williams took first place honors, as did Greg Reif at 132 for Jacksonville.

Pat Kaelin, also of Hazelwood Central, won at 145. Gary Garhardt, of Ritenour, and Randy Taylor, of Pekin, won at 167 and heavyweight, Taylor is the defending Illinois State Champion at heavyweight.

South had already taken the lead at the end of the first day of the two-day affair. The Warriors then led their own tourney 78½ to 66½ over Riverview Gardens. South and Riverview have won the most the Holiday titles during the past 10 years.

Granite has held it for six of those 10 years.

The individual second place winners were as follows (in order of weight classes): Gary O'Bannon (HC), Mike Trgovich (GCS), John Beaudoin (RIT), Steve Smith (GCN), Randy Lupardus (GCS), John Innis (PEK), Glenn Thompson (GCN), Dan Gruensfelder (RG), Doug McClister (PEK), Sam Staker (PEK), Scott Hunt (PEK), and Keith Cruise (CAH).

SIUE grapplers falter twice

By DAVE CAUSEY
for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville wrestling team suffered a pair of losses at the hands of a couple of top-notch NCAA Division I teams this week as they lost to fifth-ranked U. of Kentucky (Tuesday), 32-10, and then dropped a 36-13 meet to Big Ten contender Indiana, Wednesday. The losses made the Cougars 1-3 for the season.

Against Kentucky, three Cougars won matches. Their 118-pound All-American, Tom Reed, defeated Douga Casterlarri, 14-4. That victory gave Reed 15 on the season and 111 for his career, which is the new SIUE record for career wins, surpassing the previous record of 110 set by Mike Taylor in 1971-74. Reed is shooting for his fourth consecutive 30-victory season.

Also winning for the Cougars were: 142-pound Frank Curry, in his first dual-meet action as a Cougar, whomping Pete Baney, 8-2, and 190-pound Joe Glasder, who won over the Hoosiers' Doug Baylor, 9-3.

The Hoosiers are one of the up-and-coming teams in Division I this season and showed their talents in fine fashion, coming up with three falls and a pair of superior decisions to overwhelm the Cougars. Again, three Cougars won matches: Reed defeated Jeff Bentley 10-5; Joe Glasder pinned Mike D'Ambrose in 2:53; and All-American Norm Mitchell showed his take-down prowess as he took Randy Campbell to the mat eight times during the match and allowed seven escapes to win, 18-7.

SIUE Coach Larry Kristoff was not displeased with his charges. "Those schools have excellent programs. They have almost all upperclassmen, and they tore our young wrestlers up. Our wrestlers went down swinging, and I can live with that. Those two schools are among the best and it is no disgrace to lose to them."

Soccer team announced

GRANITE CITY — The second annual Press-Record All-Star Soccer Team will be announced next week, and not this week and previously announced. Space problems because of holiday deadlines and the numerous Christmas tournaments have made the change neccessary. Included in the special edition will be photos and rundowns of each player named, Coaches of the Year in each conference, a Southern Illinois Coach of the Year and Player of the Year. Also next week, a special feature on former Granite Cityan Dal Maxvill, who was released last week as first base coach of the St. Louis baseball Cardinals, but still remains within the Cardinals' organization.

North comes close, but finishes second

GRANITE CITY— The Granite City North wrestlers were favored slightly going into the 20th Granite City Holiday Wrestling Tournament. They didn't win it, but finiushed a strong second to crosstown school Granite City South. North finished with 167 points and two individual champions.

Senior Jerry Miller, one of few athletes to letter at North for four years in wrestling, won his third tournament and his name was entered into that category with only six other wrestlers. Mike Robinson was the other Steeler to win first-place in his weight class.

Along with two champions, North finished with two second-places, a third, a fourth, and a fifth-place for a total of seven places.

"We were kind of flat the first day," said Walt Whitaker, North's coach. "We came back strong to finish in second place. We had a couple of disappointments, but ..." North was in third-place team wise at the end of the first day with 62 points under Riverview and South. They finished second with 167 to South's 212.

Robinson wrestled at 98 pounds in the tourney and shut out Gary O'Bannon (HC) 5-0 in the title bout. Miller, at 112, dominated and beat John Beaudoin (RIT) 11-2 for the championship. North had two other wrestlers in the finals. They were Steve Smith at 119 and Glenn Thompson at 138.

Smith lost a squeaker to Greg Hampton (HC) 7-6 in the finals. Thompson was shut out by Tom McElroy (GCS) 7-0. That was the only time that North met South in the finals.

Scott Corey wrestled to a third-place finish at 155 pounds by defeating Greg Wehmer (HC) 4-0 in the third-place bout. Steve Gibson lost in the third-place match to George Hovis (RG) by a fall at the 2:47 point. Tim Wyrostek, at 185, defeated Ken Boyle (BE) 2-1 for fifth-place.

"We thought we could do better at 145 (Monte Kessler) and 167 (Bob Patton)," said Whitaker. Both of those had been doing fairly well in the season and both lost out of the tournament in the first rounds.

Robinson stuck Keith Grenzeback (WR) at the 1:24 mark in the opening round. He then lost to O'Bannon (HC), who he met and beat in the final, 6-4. Robinson bounced back with a 4:32 pin over Nick Van Nice (PEK). The Steeler continued with a 13-0 shut out against Scott Mitchell (SD) and a 3-2 decision over Rob Milazzo (ROX). Robinson then got revenge in the final with a 5-0 score with O'Bannon.

Miller, at 112, got a first period fall against Dave Hawkins (RG) in the first round. And a 57 second pin against Dan Foster (NOR) in the next round. Miller ended Monday with a 14-0 decision over Phil McIntyre (CAH). He then received a default in the quarterfinals. Miller advanmced to the finals by defeating Mike Plummer (ROX) 9-2. In the finals, he beat Beaudoin 14-2.

exceptional ball game," said Deterding. "The way he plays, he's in there for good. You take him and Schnefke and you've got a couple of hard nosed ball players."

The pair definitely inspired the rest of the squad to bare down on defense, which in the long run won the game for South. "The defense carried us again," sadi Deterding. "But it has carried us in all of our games."

It made Roxana committ 23 turnovers and was close in setting a defensive scoring record for the least amount of points allowed in a single game in the tournament. The record being 35.

It was good thing the Warriors produced such an outstanding display of defense. Their offense wouldn't have raised any eye brows. "We missed too many dang easy shots under the basket," said Deterding.

Inside or outside, the Warriors did miss quite a number of shot. Connecting on 24 of 64 for a lowly 38 percent, South scoring production was not earth-shattering. Roxana, however, only hit 28 percent of its attempts.

When South did hit, it was Eric Waltenberger who collected the tallies. Going to the free throw line 10 times, Waltenberger made good on eight tosses and totaled a game high 18 points. Choat and George Sykes were next in line with 11 a piece.

Although Schnefke, coming off a 19 point performance the day before, only chalked up six against the Shells, his defensive play was instrumental. "He played super defense and did a good job rebounding," said Deterding. Schnefke led the team with eight rebounds and the Warriors out-muscled Roxana 40 to 33.

"I'm really surprised they (South) haven't won a ball game until now," said Seroggins.

McClister, whom Perkins beat 8-4.

Frangoulis at 185 defeated John Thomas (BLO) 3-1 in his opening round. Then, Jeff Aslin (HC) fell victim to a Frangoulis pin at the 5:32 point of the match. The Warrior beat Jim Basler (RG), the defending champion, 3-1. Frangoulis pinned Martin Burt (NOR) and decisioned Dean Hollis (ROX) 11-2 before defeating Hunt (PEK) in the finals.

After the meet was over and South had been declared the champions, the Warrior grapplers picked up and carried Coach Schmitt around in a circular parade. They were happy. They won a tournament that they were not favored to win: North was.

Things will return to normal, now that another Holiday Tournament has ended. South will continue to impress the opponents and most of the wrestlers that met yesterday in the semi-finals and in the finals will meet again in the Districts and Sectionals.

Granite grapplers again lead the pack

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City South Warriors won their sixth championship of the South Holiday Wrestling Tournament here last night. It marked the 11th title for Granite City schools.

Two athletes made the elite group of three-time winners. North's Jerry Miller at 112 and South's Dean Perkins at 145, who won at 98 pounds in 1978 and at 112 last season. South's Dean Perkins won at 145 pounds in both 1978 and 1979 and at 155 this year.

Granite City South totalled 212 team points for the victory followed by their cross-town rivals, Granite North with 167 points. North, although favored going into this year's tournament, has never won a Holiday meet.

Pekin, also one of the favorites, finished in third place with 156 points. In fourth was the defending champion, Riverview Gardens with 137½. Hazelwood Central took fifth place with 135.

The other teams finished as follows: Ritenour, sixth, with 134½; Roxana, seventh, 120½, Cahokia, eigth, 116; Normandy, ninth, 104; Belleville East,10th, 72; Decatur, 11th, 65½; McCluer North, 12th, 57; Jacksonville, 13th, 41½; Lincoln, 14th, 34; Bloomington, 15th, 30; and Wood River, 16th, 9.

South finished with three individual champions, North had two, and five other teams had one apiece. The winning Warriors were Tom McElroy at 138 pounds, Perkins at 155, and Jim Frangoulis at 185. North's champions were Mike Robinson at 98 and Miller at 112.

Roxana's Rob Warren won the 105 pound category of the tournament. Greg Hampton of Hazelwood Central won at 119. At 126, Normandy's Josh Williams took first place honors, as did Greg Reif at 132 for Jacksonville.

Pat Kaelin, also of Hazelwood Central, won at 145. Gary Garhardt, of Ritenour, and Randy Taylor, of Pekin, won at 167 and heavyweight. Taylor is the defending Illinois State Champion at heavyweight.

South had already taken the lead at the end of the first day of the two-day affair. The Warriors then led their own tourney 78½ to 66½ over Riverview Gardens. South and Riverview have won the most the Holiday titles during the past 10 years.

Granite has held it for six of those 10 years.

The individual second place winners were as follows (in order of weight classes): Gary O'Bannon (HC), Mike Trgovich (GCS), John Beaudoin (RIT), Steve Smith (GCN), Randy Lupardus (GCS), John Innis (PEK), Glenn Thompson (GCN), Dan Gruensfelder (RG), Doug McClister (PEK), Sam Staker (PEK), Scott Hunt (PEK), and Keith Cruise (CAH).

SIUE grapplers falter twice

By DAVE CAUSEY
for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville wrestling team suffered a pair of losses at the hands of a couple of top-notch NCAA Division I teams this week as they lost to fifth-ranked U. of Kentucky (Tuesday), 32-10, and then dropped a 36-13 meet to Big Ten contender Indiana, Wednesday. The losses made the Cougars 1-3 for the season.

Against Kentucky, three Cougars won matches. Their 118-pound All-American, Tom Reed, defeated Douga Casterlarri, 14-4. That victory gave Reed 15 on the season and 111 for his career, which is the new SIUE record for career wins, surpassing the previous record of 110 set by Mike Taylor in 1971-74. Reed is shooting for his fourth consecutive 30-victory season.

Also winning for the Cougars were: 142-pound Frank Curry, in his first dual-meet action as a Cougar, whomping Pete Baney, 8-2, and 190-pound Joe Glasder, who won over the Hoosiers' Doug Baylor, 9-3.

The Hoosiers are one of the up-and-coming teams in Division I this season and showed their talents in fine fashion, coming up with three falls and a pair of superior decisions to overwhelm the Cougars. Again, three Cougars won matches: Reed defeated Jeff Bentley 10-5; Joe Glasder pinned Mike D'Ambrose in 2:55; and All-American Norm Mitchell showed his take-down prowess as he took Randy Campbell to the mat eight times during the match and allowed seven escapes to win, 18-7.

SIUE Coach Larry Kristoff was not displeased with his charges. "Those schools have excellent programs. They have almost all upperclassmen, and they tore our young wrestlers up. Our wrestlers went down swinging, and I can live with that. Those two schools are among the best and it is no disgrace to lose to them."

Soccer team announced

GRANITE CITY — The second annual Press-Record All-Star Soccer Team will be announced next week, and not this week and previously announced. Space problems because of holiday deadlines and the numerous Christmas tournaments have made the change neccessary. Included in the special edition will be photos and rundowns of each player named, Coaches of the Year in each conference, a Southern Illinois Coach of the Year and Player of the Year. Also next week, a special feature on former Granite Cityan Dal Maxvill, who was released last week as first base coach of the St. Louis baseball Cardinals, but still remains within the Cardinals' organization.

Glen Carbon files suit on new census figures

Glen Carbon suit in Madison County Circuit Court last week to make certain the official final 1980 census figures include 2,231 persons within the village boundaries but credited to Edwardsville township in two preliminary reports.

Village Clerk Glenda Kovarik said "After the first preliminary report came in showing our population 2,930, we took all our annexation ordinances since 1970 down to Belleville. We showed them what they hadn't credited to Glen Carbon. They assured us it would be corrected.

"When the final preliminary figure came out it was the same, 2,930."

Glenda Kovarik said the last big Cottonwood annexation took place a couple of years before that.

Despite Department of Commerce assurances that the incorrect crediting will be changed, "we can't be positive," Kovarik said. Accordingly, village attorney Joe Kelleher was instructed to file the suit before Jan. 1 to preserve the village's position.

Glen Carbon isn't questioning the body count, just which jurisdiction the people were credited to. On that basis, it is believed there is a good chance of success in getting the coorection made.

The clerk believes she knows exactly how the mistake occurred.

Large areas within Glen Carbon village limits have street and number addresses on the Edwardsville post office delivery system. When their mailed forms went to the census bureau, the Edwardsville address was misinterpreted to rule out the Glen Carbon connection.

The village paid more than $3,000 in 1975 for a special census which found 3,082 people.

The 1970 census gave Glen Carbon 1,213 people. The preliminary figure which Glen Carbon disputes was 2,930, an increase of 59.2 percent.

Adding the disputed number to the 2,930 would give Glen Carbon 5,161. That would make its increase 325 percent, really phenomenal growth.

The Alton-Wood River area, like the Quad-Cities, lost population from 1970 to 1980.

Alton dropped from 39,700 in 1970 to 33,963 (down 14.45 percent).

Bethalto, in the Alton area, gained from 7,074 to 8,609 (17.8 percent).

Driver faces four charges

Mark R. Thomas, 18, of 4102 Melrose Ave., arrested at 1:35 a.m. Saturday in the 3100 block of Edgewood Avenue, was charged with driving while intoxicated, reckless driving, criminal damage to property and injury to city property.

Thomas allegedly was driving his vehicle south on Edgewood and went off the roadway at the Willow Avenue intersection, allegedly striking a speed limit sign and traveling through yards at 3133 and 3129 Edgewood.

He allegedly struck a 1975 Monte Carlo sedan belonging to Kathryn McGovern, parked in the driveway at 3125 Edgewood, and drove through two other yards damaging shrubbery and trees before hitting a tree and coming to a halt in the roadway, according to police.

Thomas, who reportedly sustained injuries, declined medical attention. He was taken in a squad car to police headquarters and released at 3:25 a.m. Saturday on payment of a $237 cash bond.

APARTMENT LOOTED

Theft of $214 in food stamps, a $175 brass bulldog, 30 musical records worth a total of $200, and an antique picture occurred last week at 4801 Kirkpatrick Homes, authorities were notified by Loretta Hardesty.

Holiday luncheon for Nameoki Woman's Club

The annual Christmas meeting of the Nameoki Woman's Club was celebrated with a festive luncheon at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues.

Mrs. Ethel Beeler, president, welcomed the group and introduced a guest, Mrs. Vivian Kern.

Hostesses for the dessert luncheon were Mrs. Donna Schaefer, Mrs. Mildred Brandings and Mrs. Harriet Byers.

Mrs. Janette Krause offered the invocation.

The short business session involved reports from officers and committees. Members also authorized a donation to the Salvation Army Tree of Lights campaign.

It was announced that Christmas poinsettias were delivered to Mrs. Bertha Johnson and Mrs. Pauletta Miller, who were reported ill.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent playing games and exchanging holiday gifts.

The club will next meet at 12 noon, Wednesday, Jan. 21, at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Mrs. Beeler said.

Illinois Bell introduces new Dimension 100 system

Illinois Bell has introduced the Dimension (R) 100 PBX to its Dimension family of electronic PBX comunications systems. Dimension 100 PBX offers the efficiencies of Illinois Bell's larger systems to business customers with 100 or fewer phones. Tariff has been approved by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

"The new Dimension 100 PBX with Feature Package 15 gives customers all the flexibility available in our larger Dimension systems," said Illinois Bell product manager Roy Peach. "This feature package includes options for Uniform Call Distribution, Electronic Custom Telephone Service and Direct Department Calling," he said.

"In addition, the Dimension 100 PBX allows our customers to assume a more active role in the management, control and administration of their communication system. It offers cost control options such a station message detail recording, which compiles and prints complete data on outgoing and incoming calls, including calling and called numbers, routing, length of call, rate and time.

An optional Customer Administration Panel puts control of the system on customers' premises. And at their convenience, customers can reassign or change station numbers or customize station features."

Another feature, Centralized Attendant Service, allows customers with several locations to handle incoming calls for all of them at a single site. Each also said the attendant console has been enhanced so it can more efficiently handle a greater number of calls.

Dimension 100 PBX is available under the varibale term payment plan announced recently for the entire Dimension PBX line. Under this plan, a customer has a choice of a month-to-month or 48-month payment schedule.

During the course of the contract, there will be no increase in rates. This plan was designed to meet customer needs to achieve predictable, stable rates throughout the life of the payment agreement, Peach said.

We love you very much. Your loving wife Adeline, Daughters Bernadette, JoAnne, Kathy, Mary Ann, and Sons-in-law, Grandchildren Tony, Richard, Robert, Stephen, David and Dawn Marie. 32 12 31

IN LOVING memory of RAYMOND MUNIZ, Jan. 1, 1975. Sadly missed by Family and Friends. 32 12 31

IN MEMORY of NICOLE and STACY LEHMAN who were killed with their father, LARRY D. LEHMAN, on Dec. 31, 1979. "It isn't fair!", we tell ourselves, That our darlings had to go; So very young, their lives snuffed out, It seems it cannot be so. We have lived a year of loneliness, We miss you more each day; But in our pain, we lift our hearts, For we are glad you came our way. And maybe out there where things are made known, We'll meet you again and see; The reason we had you for such a short time, God grant that this may be! We love you, AUNT BETTY and GRANDMA MAY. 32 12 31

Energy program to be at South

KARIN HOKKANEN

"Energy Today and Tomorrow" will be presented at Granite City High School South on Monday, Jan. 26, it was announced today by R. William Rotter Jr., science department head.

Karin Hokkanen, teacher-demonstrator will present the program. In addition to holding a bachelor's degree she has completed training in energy education at Oak Ridge, Tenn., the world famous energy research center.

Energy doesn't just pop out of the walls. But where does it come from? How do we use it? Why is it getting expensive? This is the subject of the special traveling program for high schools and civic clubs called "Energy Today and Tomorrow." The program, developed and operated by Oak Ridge Associated Universities (ORAU), is sponsored by Illinois Power Company.

It features an array of unusual electronic teaching devices such as an animated garbage can that demonstrates the value of recycling, a bicycle that generates electricity, an electrostatic precipitator to control pollution, and an electric motorcycle.

The teacher-demonstrator, Karin Hokkanen, uses this equipment and other devices to describe the sources of our energy today, methods we use for power generation, possible future sources of energy and the social, economic and environmental choices we face when we use energy. One of the choices she discusses is conservation.

"Energy Today and Tomorrow" visits a different high school in Illinois each school day. The demonstration is presented in an assembly and is then followed by special classroom sessions adapted to the size, interests and grade level of the students. These sessions are designed to stimulate both science and non-science students into thinking about energy and the impact of science and technology on modern life. A similar demonstration discussion program is available for civic groups on request.

The "Energy Today and Tomorrow" program scheduled here is one of 21 similar units appearing daily at high schools in different parts of the country. They are part of an extensive traveling exhibits program designed to bring the public a greater understanding of energy and its uses.

ORAU is a nonprofit education and research consortium of 50 Southern colleges and universities.

The Chouteau Town Board, Monday night agreed to set a date for the township's Republican and Democratic caususes, in the event township voters wish to nominate their own parties for the April township election.

The caucus date was set for Tuesday, Jan. 13, 1981, at the township hall with the Republican caucus beginning at 7 p.m. and the Republican caucus starting at 8 p.m.

Any registered voter who has declared a party affiliation in a primary election may attend that party's caucus and vote on nominating a slate. However, according to Chouteau Town Clerk Pat Polley, there have been no requests for caucuses by either party, and it is possible, that no one will attend the caucuses.

The Jan. 13 date is set by the new Illinois consolidated elections law. Township caucuses formerly were held on Jan. 20.

Families changing, but will survive

(This is the last in a series of 15 articles exploring "American Families in Transition." In this article, sociologist Jessie Bernard predicts that the American family will survive, despite changes in form. Copyright (c) 1980 by the Regents of the University of California.)

By JESSIE BERNARD

The 1960s and '70s were marked by both changing family relationships and the development of negative attitudes — particularly among women — toward marriage and the family.

The changes are here to stay, but the negative attitudes are not.

The 1980s will recoup a good deal of the luster that marriage and the family lost in the previous two decades, and will witness still further changes in the family. Of course, as with any predictions, we must add, "Other things remaining the same."

Two movements — the accelerated rate at which women entered the labor force and the rise of feminism — converged in the '70s to bring about a restructuring of family relationships.

Neither caused the other, but each acted as a catalyst to compound the effect of both.

The first, by making economic independence for women a possible alternative to an unsatisfactory marriage, reduced the psychological and sometimes physical costs, such as wife abuse, that many women were willing to pay for marriage.

The second movement, feminism, made many women more conscious of the inequality in the laws governing marriage and the discriminatory impact of the legal, customary, traditional standards in the work world.

But the image of marriage and the family had already begun to tarnish even before the feminist movement, in the late '60s.

NEGATIVE ATTITUDES.

In 1957, almost twice as many single women (46 percent) as single men (26 pecent) had favorable attitues toward marriage.

By 1976, however, the proportion had declined so drastically that there was almost no difference between women (17 percent) and men (14 percent).

Twice as many single women in 1976 as in 1957 saw marriage as burdensome and restrictive (72 and 36 percent respectively).

Parenthood — or, rather, motherhood — suffered a similar loss.

In 1957, about half of both single men and women had positive attitudes toward children; by 1976, only half as many women (23 percent) as men (50 percent) did.

The rate of people getting married for the first time paralleled these downward trends. It dropped from about 90 per 1,000 single women in 1950 to approximately 65 in 1976.

With alternatives in the form of jobs and with changing norms about the importance of marrying, women were less anxious to marry.

Nor, once married, were they so anxious to remain married. Divorce rates also paralleled the negative attitudes toward the family, more than doubling between 1960 and 1976 from 2.2 per 1,000 population to 5.2.

The withdrawal of men from the father role was another negative aspect of the family in the '60s and '70s.

The deserting father was an old problem. But in the 1960s, the workaholic — the man whose first allegiance was to the corporation, the career-intoxicated man — also surfaced as a concern.

The child who asked who the man was that came once a week to spank him was at first a butt of tolerant humor in sophisticated cartoons, but he was taken more seriously when he came to college as an alienated youth and adopted the drug culture.

These trends made it easy to succumb to the chicken-little syndrome. The sky must be falling.

With marriage rates declining and divorce rates climbing, the end of the family must surely be upon us.

BRIGHTER OUTLOOK.

Not so. The clouds might be low but the sky was still firmly secured.

The overall marriage rate began to rise from 8.8 per 1,000 population in 1963 to 10.3 in 1979.

Though young women may have been delaying marriage, they nevertheless were marrying. In fact, 95 percent will marry at some time in their lives.

And the divorce rate, which had risen so spectacularly in the late '60s and early '70s, stopped rising. From 1975 to 1977, it held steady, and then rose only very slowly.

But while marriage is becoming more popular and more durable, the nature of marriage can be expected to change.

For one thing, young women will be in slightly short supply. The declining birthrate a generation ago will result in what Paul Blick of the Census Bureau calls the "Marriage squeeze."

Young men will arrive at the customary male age of marriage (say, 24) about two years before young women will (say, 22).

They will either have to wait for the women or make them offers they can't refuse. Further, with the alternative of work available, there will be less incentive for young women to marry.

In this good bargaining position, women will be able to specify the kinds of marriage they are willing to enter.

More and more young couples will formalize these specifications in written contracts, although the legal status of such contracts has not yet been determined.

Whether or not the wife is employed, she will have more power in the marriage as men become more accustomed to the new role relationships.

NEW EGALITARIANISM.

A new kind of egalitarianism will be demanded. In many ways, marriage was more egalitarian in the beginning of the 1970s than at the end.

Many of the old legal inequalities have been chipped away. But the relatively equal role pattern of the past — husband-provider, wife-homemaker — has been replaced in many families with a gross inequality in workload, as women both contribute to family income and retain responsibility for homemaking and child rearing.

Most women will continue to hold jobs after they marry, and many will continue work even after they have children.

Although the new generation of young men has already increased its share of household tasks, this increase will have to be far greater if the new egalitarianism is to be implemented.

Re-scheduling the work world will help. In the future, there will be more flextime, part-time work with no loss of fringe benefits or perequisites, parental leave, ahd childcare.

Above all, there will be more — far more — male sharing of responsibility for the household and children.

This readjustment in traditional roles will result in a good deal of domestic stress in the 1980s.

But there is no cause for alarm. Most people will continue to live in nuclear families — father, mother, children — for most of their lives.

In 1978, 86 percent of us were in nuclear households. Despite the seeming vogue for not having children, the vast majority of married vogue for not having children, the vast majority of married couples want children and will have at least one or two.

Furthermore, the feminist movement, which had begun the '70s with an implicit anti-family stance, turned a corner at the end of the '70s, according to one of its pioneers, Betty Friedan, and became more family-oriented.

"The future of the family is an overriding feminist issue," Muriel Fox was saying in 1979.

Feminists did "not share the frequently voiced opinion that American families are in a state of hopeless collapse. People are living together in new combinations for the intimacy and support that constitute a family."

Men and women will continue to marry and live at least moderately — if not ecstatically — happily, if not ever afterwards, at least as long as the relationship is a good one.

As we learn more about the kinds of relationships suitable for two-earner families, as we learn how to provide the services such families need, and as we learn how to operate the work world to accommodate all families, there will be less cause for marriages to break up.

There is, of course, no all-purpose, foolproof form of the family that we are moving toward and will some day achieve.

Nor can we go home again. The old house could not possibly accommodate the kind of relationship the modern world calls for.

Brothers are arrested after strongarm robbery

Two brothers from Brooklyn, Ill., ages 14 and 16, face charges in connection with the strongarm robbery of 15-year-old Bryan Voss of Indianapolis, Ind., at the YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave., early this week.

Voss said he was playing a pinball machine in the YMCA's game room when the 14-year-old asked him for a quarter. Voss said he declined to give the boy money, but offered to let him play one game on the pinball machine.

He alleged the younger boy then reached into Voss' trousers pocket, removed his wallet and took the $2 which had been in the wallet.

The younger boy then shook his fist in Voss' face and threatened to hit him if he told anyone about the robbery. The boy then fled out the 20th Street door.

Police found the two brothers at 18th and State streets and returned them to the YMCA, where Voss identified the 14-year-old as being the boy who robbed him. Juvenile charges are to be filed against him, police said.

The 16-year-old brother was charged with criminal trespass to property after a YMCA official said he had been warned to stay out of the building because of previous disturbances he was involved in.

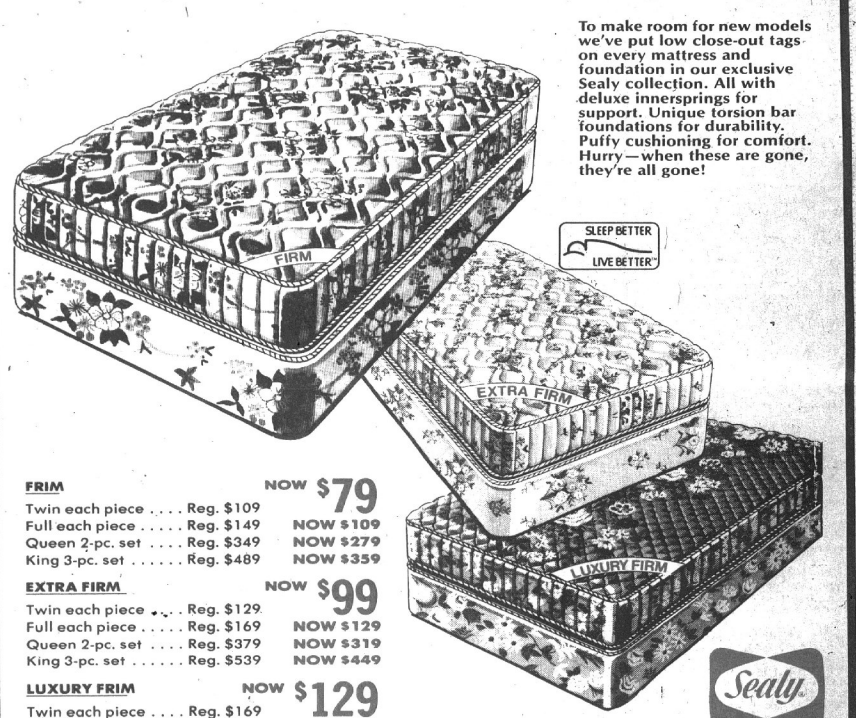

Both boys were released to their mother on notices to appear before juvenile authorities.

RANSACK DWELLING

An inventory is being taken to determine what items are missing from the home of Ed Hanson, 2533 Grand Ave., where a burglary was reported at 12:50 p.m. Saturday. The intruder pulled trim from a door window and removed the glass to enter the dwelling, which was ransacked. Drawers in the bedrooms had been taken from furniture and left on the bed, the report said.

Colossians 1:18 ... "And he is the head of the body, the church."

Paul speaks of Jesus. He is the head of the body, the church. The church is, regardless of denomination, made up of persons who have accepted Christ as their Savior.

Christ is the supreme example of a life surrendered to God. "Not my will," Jesus prayed, "but thine be done." His love to the Father, to the multitudes, and even to his enemies set the example for us today.

His giving of his life to others, his unselfishness, the purity of his motives, all serve to place him as undisputable head of the church.

Yet we discover the presence of Christ through the Spirit as being with us, not over us. In us, never to leave us or forsake us.

He is indeed worthy of our loyalty.
